WARREN BOVARD, VICE PRESIDENT OF U. S. C., TAKES HIS OWN LIFE

Supreme Court To Rule On Judge's Prohibition Stand

DECISION IS EXPECTED BY MARCH FIRST

Legal Experts See Little Chance of Upholding
Ruling of N. J. Judge

STATEMENT IS ISSUED

Senator Walsh of Montana
Unable to Agree That Law Is Unconstitutional

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—(UP)—The government's decision to take directly to the supreme court the New Jersey ruling that the 18th amendment is invalid was taken today as an indication that the issue would be settled by early March.

In the ordinary course of appeals it would take about a year for a supreme court decision to be reached. Attorney General Mitchell decided to speed up a decision by the highest court by eliminating the usual appellate court procedure. His instructions to this effect were issued, it was believed, in order that prohibition enforcement would not be handicapped by any cloud on the amendment.

Legal experts generally seemed to think that as a matter of actual law, there was little possibility of the supreme court upholding Judge Clark's decision. This view is held by constitutional lawyers among wets in the house.

Gives Statement

Representative Leonidas Dyer, Missouri, a wet, ranking member of the judiciary committee, said today that he regarded the 18th amendment as in a different category from all other constitutional amendments, since it took away certain rights from the people, and therefore should have been submitted to conventions rather than to legislatures.

The legislatures were elected on the prohibition issue, he pointed out.

Upholding of this principle, he said, would not invalidate any other amendments since none of them is in this category. There are some, however, who take the position that other amendments would be invalidated if the 18th amendment was declared unconstitutional on this ground.

"I've always contended that an amendment which takes away from the people certain rights which they have been exercising and which are not delegated by the states to the federal government should be submitted to the people, and the convention method was the way to ratify the 18th amendment," Dyer said.

"In the case of the 18th amendment, many state legislatures already had been elected and the people did not have an opportunity to pass upon the question even through their legislatures."

Dyer said that Chairman George Graham of the judiciary committee, veteran Pennsylvania repre-

STOCK MARKET CLOSES HIGHER ON SECOND DAY

All Leading Industrials
Rise As U. S. Steel Up;
Rails Also Gain

NEW YORK, Dec. 18.—(UP)—Despite inroads of profit taking, the stock market made further net gains today and closed higher. Trading volume slipped below the 5,000,000 share price.

While the general list was consolidating its gains, a long list of special issues made sensational gains. Auburn Auto soared to 119 3/4, up 20 3/4; Worthington Pump 65 3/4, up 9 3/8; Allied Chemical to 189, up 2; Columbian Carbon 78 1/2, up 4 1/2; Air Reduction 102 1/2, up 6 7/8, and New York Central 117 3/4, up 8 5/8. United States Steel rose toward 142 to a new high on the recovery at 141 3/4. It later touched 139 5/8 but came back from this figure late in the day.

All the leading industrials rose with steel, gains ranging from one to four points. Utilities, oils and rails gained fractions to more than three points. Coppers broke on news of a further cut by exporters in the price of the metal, but they rallied from the lows near the close.

J. I. Case gave the bears hard sledding in the farm equipments, rising to 105, up 11 1/4 points. Later when the grain market slipped off, Case lost part of this rise. At highs of the day some new short lines were put out in anticipation of a decline. This combined with profit taking brought many of the wide gainers down half the distance they advanced today. On the dip, however, new buying came into the market and prices moved up again. In the last few minutes of trading steel slipped below 140 again and other leaders gave ground from their prices of about 2:45 p. m.

NEW FORMULA FOR ALCOHOL USED SOON

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—(UP)—Instructions went out from the office of Industrial Alcohol Commissioner James M. Doran today directing that the new, non-poisonous denaturant for industrial alcohol, called alcotat, be substituted for the present poisonous formula, "Number Five" on January 1. Formula No. 5 contains wood alcohol.

The new formula is the one which Doran recently described as making alcohol taste "like a combination of spoiled eggs and garlic." It is said to be impossible to remove the taste from the alcohol, once it is introduced.

Alcotat, which is the key to the new formula, is a product of the California oil fields.

EARL CAMPBELL IS INJURED IN CRASH

E. E. Campbell, of Orange president last year of the Orange County Farm Bureau, was confined at home today as a result of minor injuries sustained late yesterday when the automobile he was driving collided with a car operated by Mrs. M. E. Meadows, South Tustin street, at the intersection of East Maple avenue and North Harwood street, Orange.

Campbell suffered bruises and cuts about the face. Mrs. Meadows' hip was injured. Campbell's car turned completely over and Mrs. Meadows' machine was turned on its side. Both automobiles were badly damaged.

Hoover Dam Bids Called For March 1

Awarding of Contracts For Huge Construction Job
To Be Made Soon

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—(UP)—The government called for bids on construction of Hoover dam, huge power and irrigation project in Boulder canyon of the Colorado river. The bids will be opened March 4, and contracts will be awarded as soon thereafter as possible.

Specifications provide for notification to proceed with construction by April 15, 1931, and completion of all work necessary for the storage of water by June 15, 1935. Plans call for completion of the power generating equipment Sept. 1, 1935.

All work in connection with the storage and power enterprises will be included in a single contract. Congress has authorized expenditure of $165,000,000 on the Boulder canyon project, including the All-American canal. Of this amount $108,000,000 will be expended at the site of Hoover dam at Black canyon.

The official size of the dam is given as 727 feet high and 1,180 feet long. It is to be 45 feet wide at the top and 650 feet at the base.

In employing labor, preference must be given to ex-service men, the specifications provide, with secondary consideration to local residents. Aliens are barred from work on any phase of the project. The interior department estimates that 1,000 men will be employed on the project for five or six years.

Specifications also provide that preference shall be given to domestic materials in construction work on the project, providing conditions of quality and price are equal.

The specifications inform prospective bidders that the construction railroad to be used in building the dam is to be completed by Sept. 1, 1931. On completion the line will be turned over to the contractor for the dam who will immediately assume its operation and maintenance.

A schedule of construction with tentative completion dates follows: Tunnel diversion tunnel—Oct. 1, 1932.

Over diversion tunnels—March 1, 1933.

Coffer dams—May 1, 1933.

Placing of first mass concrete—not later than Dec. 1, 1933.

All materials in the dam up to an elevation of 1010 feet—placed by Sept. 1, 1935.

Other features necessary for storage of water—June 15, 1935.

Features necessary to generation of power—Sept. 1, 1935.

Intake towers, except the bridges—July 1, 1935.

Canyon wall outlet works—Sept. 1, 1935.

TUCSON, Ariz., Dec. 18.—(UP)—Senator-Elect J. Hamilton Lewis of Illinois declared here today the nation would not return to prosperity until a new tariff system was adopted and rescue of international differences from politics was effected.

He said a plan which would regulate tariff rates subject to seasonal revision according to crops and financial conditions must be adopted early.

Lewis declined to comment on the ruling of Federal Judge William Clark of New Jersey, which declared the 18th amendment void.

He will remain here a week to recuperate from an attack of influenza. During his stay a series of lectures to the University of Arizona students will be given by him.

PRINCE OF WALES ILL

LONDON, Dec. 18.—(UP)—The Prince of Wales was suffering from a chill today and as a result, engagements for him were cancelled.

At York House it was said officially that the prince was confined to his room with "a slight chill."

NOTABLE AMERICAN NAMES IN BRITISH "WHO'S WHO"

NEW YORK, Dec. 18.—(UP)—Copies of the 1931 edition of the British "Who's Who" reached New York today. The usual notable Americans are among the 35,000 names of prominent persons in all parts of the world listed therein.

Mrs. Helen Wills Moody, the famous tennis star, was among the few Americans whose achievements brought them recognition for the first time this year.

She appears under her married name. Her tennis triumphs here and abroad from 1923 to 1929 are set forth under the head of "recreations." During the year Mrs. Moody was presented at the court of St. James.

The birth of Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh's son is duly recorded. Lindbergh's brief biography has been corrected. When it appeared last year for the first time, the flier was alleged to have married "Elizabeth, daughter of Dwight Davis, United States ambassador to Mexico." The 1931 edition correctly records Lindbergh as having married "Anne, daughter of Dwight W. Morrow, United States ambassador to Mexico." Bishop Manning is listed, but not Judge Ben Lindsey.

The stage and screen are represented by Mary Pickford, Douglas Fairbanks, Charles Chaplin, Mary Garden and Will Hays, but none of the Barrymores is named.

Senator Borah and other members of congress are listed, but not Senator Thomas J. Heflin. Al Smith, of course is there, as well as Calvin Coolidge and scores of other public men.

President Hoover is accorded almost half a column of biography—about the same length as is given him in the American who's who.

Others of prominence included in the work and selected at random are the Rockefellers, father and son; Henry Ford, Owen D. Young, Elihu Root, James W. Gerard, Gifford Pinchot, James Hamilton Lewis, Edward S. Harkness—who donated $10,000,000 to British philanthropy during the year—the three Roosevelts, Franklin D., Kermit and Theodore, and others.

SUCCESSOR TO EARLDOM OF STERLING SEEKS TO OBTAIN FREEDOM FROM PRISON CELL

FLORENCE, Ariz., Dec. 18.—(UP)—Dr. Alan Alexander Stirling, self-styled successor to the Earldom of Sterling and one of two heirs to an $8,500,000 estate, told from his prison cell today how he hopes to win freedom and return to claim his fortune.

Imprisoned for from six to nine years on a bigamy charge, Dr. Stirling asked the Arizona state supreme court to set aside the sentence on the grounds that a first marriage was void.

The 33-year-old physician, who claims to be the grandson of the late Earl of Sterling, said he was in line to claim the title, together with several large coal mines and practically complete ownership of the Isle of Aaron, a British possession ruled by the Sterlings for 400 years.

A copy of provisions of the 16th earl's will was filed with the supreme court along with Dr. Stirling's appeal. The document was sent in 1928 by the legal firm of Gordon & McNab of Glasgow, Scotland, to the British consul in Mexico City in order to reach Dr. Stirling, who was in the Mexican state of Sonora at that time.

The attorneys informed Dr. Stirling that the 16th earl had died November 1, 1928, at his hunting box in Kimmorock, Scotland, and was buried at Torrie, Scotland.

The provisions of the will relating to Dr. Stirling were that he and his cousin, the present Viscount Sterling, were to receive the huge estate if they married within a year of the earl's death. Failing each would be cut off with a shilling.

"My grandfather was the Earl of Sterling," the imprisoned physician said today. "The change in the spelling is an arbitrary one, I believe. It was first spelled Sterlin, then Stirling and later Sterling. I have always used Sterling as did my father, the son of the 16th earl."

"My father came to America as a young man to a surgeon in the Union army. Later he was offered a post in New Zealand, and I was

NIGHT OPENING FOR LARGER STORES TO BEGIN SATURDAY

Through a misunderstanding it was announced in the Register last night that the merchants of Santa Ana would keep their stores open evenings until Christmas.

Apparently the various merchants were not able to agree on remaining open and the result was that certain stores were open last night while others presented closed doors to the thousands of shoppers who appeared on the streets.

Certain stores have agreed not to remain open nights until the last four nights before Christmas.

The drygoods stores, furniture stores and department stores will remain open Saturday night and Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week. The stores will open at the usual hour in the morning and remain so until 9 o'clock at night.

Among those that are open evenings already are the men's stores, women's stores, dollar stores, stationery stores and some of the specialty shops.

Action Huge Surprise To Government

First Test of Confidence
Expected to Be Defeat
For Cabinet

PARIS, Dec. 18.—(UP)—The cabinet of Premier Theodore Steeg was deserted by three members today as it entered the chamber of deputies to meet its first test in a vote of confidence.

Minister of Pensions Robert Thoumyre, Under Secretary of Agriculture Camille Cautru, and Under Secretary of Interior Rene Coty tendered their resignations, due to the fact that the Socialist party was expected to make a determined effort to save the new cabinet from defeat.

The resigned members had objected to the Socialist demand that, in return for the party's support, the government push a program of disarmament ahead of the established policy of guaranteeing national security.

Although resignation of the three cabinet members had been rumored last night, the action came as a surprise just when the government faced a test which will tax it to the limit.

Steeg was given only a fighting chance to overcome the opposition of the faction led by resigned Premier Andre Tardieu, even if he received the support of all members of the Socialist party. He chose, however, to continue his plan of immediate battle after the resignation of the three cabinet members.

The decision of the three ministers to resign followed a bitter discussion of plans at the foreign office, where the cabinet met. Steeg then called a second meeting of the cabinet and decided to continue.

The ministers were greeted with a noisy outburst when they entered the chamber.

The deputies pounded on the desks tops and there were ironical shouts from the opposition benches.

MAYOR OF CULVER CITY IS RECALLED

CULVER CITY, Cal., Dec. 18.—(UP)—Harvey W. Kinkaid, for the past eight months mayor of this motion picture town, was recalled at a special election here yesterday by a vote of 324 to 536.

Frank W. Dobson, retired attorney, was chosen for the new city executive.

Kinkaid, councilman for two and one-half years prior to his election as mayor, was chosen with "general inefficiency, incompetency and waste of public funds."

Palma's administration lasted only five days. He succeeded President Lazaro Chacon, who resigned due to illness.

Chicago Gambler Wins Release On $50,000 Payment

DANVILLE, Ill., Dec. 18.—(UP)—James H. Ward, Chicago Heights gambler, who has been missing for a week, walked into the Danville police station today and announced he had been freed by kidnapers on payment of $50,000 ransom.

Ward said he was released on the Dixie highway, near here, after relatives, obeying instructions of the kidnapers, paid over the money.

HUGE GAS SUPPLY

HANFORD, Calif., Dec. 18.—(UP)—Kettleman Hills field contains gas reservoirs ample to supply all California with gas for 119 years, or to supply San Francisco and Los Angeles for 650 years, or until 2580 A.D.

That was the estimate of Geologist Norman A. Rousselet, made in an affidavit read in court here on behalf of the Milham Exploration company, producers of the discovery well in Kettleman Hills.

NEW REVOLT IN SPAIN IS SEEN BY ARMY HEADS

Situation at Present Said to Be Quiet But New Outbreak Expected

MADRID, Dec. 18.—(UP)—Saved from possible overthrow by the loyalty of the army and premature launching of republican revolutionary plans, the Spanish government dominated the country and controlled general strikes by martial law today.

It was difficult to predict whether the monarchy and Premier Gen. Damaso Berenguer would emerge eventually stronger or weaker from the present situation. Quarters in close touch with the army refused to discount the possibility that Spain's armed forces might co-operate with some movement against the government sooner or later.

The next few days were expected to be difficult for King Alfonso XIII and Premier Berenguer in attempting to restore the country to normalcy, in view of the many divergent ideas as to how their plans should be carried out.

The government did not expect revolutionists, beaten in their first concerted attempt against the crown, to remain idle long.

The opinion expressed by Ramon Franco and other leaders of the unsuccessful revolt that they would surely triumph eventually was considered typical of the plotters.

The revolutionists were expected to adopt different tactics in their next attempt.

GUATEMALA REVOLT LEADER SUCCESSFUL

GUATEMALA CITY, Dec. 18.—(UP)—General Manuel Orellana, leader of a successful revolt against the administration of Provisional President Baudilio Palma, headed the Guatemalan government today.

General Orellana was named provisional president by the national assembly. Order was restored in the capital and the new government announced that constitutional guarantees would be respected.

The new provisional president was in command of Fort Matamoros and led his troops in revolt. Minister of War General Mauro de Leon was among those killed in fighting.

Palma's administration lasted only five days. He succeeded President Lazaro Chacon, who resigned due to illness.

MRS. BEN LINDSEY NEAR BREAKDOWN

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 18.—(UP)—Mrs. Ben Lindsey, wife of the foremost advocate of companionate marriage, is on the verge of a nervous breakdown and her condition is critical, it was learned here today.

It was said that Mrs. Lindsey, who soon is to become a mother, has been in poor health since her husband was discharged from the courts of Colorado more than a year ago.

Her arrest in New York for causing a disturbance in the Cathedral of St. John the Divine aggravated the illness, her physician said.

Since making his home here, Judge Lindsey has practiced little law, spending most of his time delivering lectures on companionate marriage.

LEAVES WIFE NOTE

Body Discovered in Bed in Home Early Today By Friend of His Family

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 18.—(UP)—Warren Bradley Bovard, 45, vice-president of the University of Southern California and prominent in political and civic circles, died here early today from a self-inflicted bullet wound.

The educator left a note which did not explain his motive in committing suicide. It read:

"Goodbye Blaine, I am going." Friends explained that Blaine was a pet name for Bovard's wife, now in Wichita, Kansas.

Mrs. Bovard, it was said, went to the middle west two months ago.

Bovard's body was discovered at 7:30 a. m. by Louis McWhirter, who had been living at the Bovard home since Mrs. Bovard went away.

The educator was stretched out on his bed and clad only in pajamas. There was a gaping hole in his head from the bullet of a .45 calibre automatic pistol.

McWhirter, a banker and long-time friend of Bovard's immediately called police. Officers found the note on the mantel piece. They experienced considerable trouble in removing the pistol from Bovard's hand.

Shot In Temple

After striking Bovard in the right temple the bullet imbedded itself in a window sill, police learned.

One of the first visitors to Bovard's home after the discovery of the suicide was Rufus von Klein-Smidt, president of the university. He said he would issue a statement later regarding his colleague.

Authorities said they learned that Bovard received a telegram last night, shortly before his suicide. They said they would trace down the message to determine if it might have prompted his act.

Friends of Bovard's said he had been visiting in San Francisco until yesterday and that upon his return he appeared to be in the best of spirits.

Bovard was born in Los Angeles on July 4, 1885. He attended U. S. C. and graduated in 1905.

From the time of his graduation until his death he was associated with the university, of which his father, George Finley Bovard, a U.

POINCARÉ WINNING BATTLE FOR LIFE

PARIS, Dec. 18.—(INS)—A battle for life was slowly but surely being won today by Raymond Poincaré of France as his physicians reported continued improvement after his collapse Saturday.

Immediate danger, barring unforeseen complications, was believed past.

The war-time president's physicians described his illness as "vascular spasm," which are paralytic manifestations affecting the normal functioning of the body tissues.

representative, concurred in this view, and he pointed out that former Senator George H. Williams, Republican, Missouri, had elaborated on the opinion when appearing before the committee in the prohibition hearings early this year.

Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana, a leading dry and one of the senate's foremost constitutional lawyers, disagrees with the view enunciated by Dyer.

"I haven't been able to accept the argument upon which the conclusion is reached that the 18th amendment was not legally adopted," Walsh said.

"I find it difficult to reach the conclusion that ratification by legislatures of states would not be ratified by the people of the state yet ratification by convention would be."

"Neither have I been able to agree that amendments of a particular class or character may be ratified by action of legislatures and that amendments of a different class or character must be ratified by convention."

LA HABRA

LA HABRA, Dec. 18.—O. J. Fries, of Whittier, has opened a studio at 110 East Central avenue and is placing on display several paintings from his own brush.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Fenner and Mr. and Mrs. Burt Anderson have returned from a few days at Laguna and San Diego.

To greet Miss Winifred Sutton on the eve of her return from the National Training school at San Francisco, Mrs. G. E. Sutton entertained a large group of friends at her home on Florence avenue Monday evening.

Among those who greeted "Winnie" on her return for the vacation period were Evelyn Thompson, William McVeech, Frances and Ruth Snow, Jane Friedersdorf, Betty Charles Milred, Dale and Dorothy Montgomery, Cecil Roberts, Clarence Martin, Helen and Gerald Stearns, Richard Murphy, Dwight Phillips, Lovella and Marguerite Williams, Mary Katherine Foist, Orville Proud, Effie Selbe, Bernie Rettig, Robert Ryan, Delbert Hains, Dannie Stevens, Loyal Sutton, Ruth Dickey, Cyrus Morris, Lenora Graham, Zilpha Snavely, Alvada Selbe, Jane Douth, Valerie Herman, Leola and Leland Baker, Edith McClure, Ruth Dunaway, the Rev. and Mrs. Daniel Dundas, Mrs. J. Los Angeles, Dec. 18.—(UP)—Gilbert H. Beesmyer, accused of defalcations which caused the collapse of the Guaranty Building and Loan association, lost approximately $600,000 in stock market operations over a five-year period, the district attorney's office said today.

The announcement of the loss was made by Deputy District Attorney Robert Stewart, who has been engaged in tracing the disposition of approximately $8,000,000 that Beesmyer admitted he took illegally from the Guaranty association, of which he was general manager.

Calvin Coolidge Says:

By CALVIN COOLIDGE
Former President of the United States
NORTHAMPTON, Mass.,

Dec. 18.—The world will be relieved at the reports indicating Spain is not to be involved in the catastrophe of a revolution and civil war. Although her jurisdiction over there has long since been lost, there are still many lands with many people who speak her language, follow her customs, look to her for cultural inspiration and regard her as the mother country. In that sense she still rules a great empire. Once she was the foremost power of the world.

It is difficult to determine why a people of so much ability, character and refinement could not hold their place. While many causes contributed, probably their chief weakness was the inability to cultivate and maintain the art of representative government. Failing that, they came under the influence of autocracy.

That appears to be the present trouble. The people have liberty and desire self-government but they have no constituent assembly at hand experienced and strong enough to voice their requirements.

The result is disorder and dictators. They will accomplish their reform permanently only through an independent legislative body. The creation of true representative government took hundreds of years and many struggles among English speaking people. It cannot be improvised.

South's Tobacco And Cotton Fields Covered With Snow

ATLANTA, Ga., Dec. 18.—(UP)—Snow covered the cotton and tobacco fields of the south today as far as Augusta and Macon, Ga.

Highways were slippery with ice and sleet and automobile traffic had decreased 50 per cent, it was estimated, as motorists changed to street car transportation.

Two deaths were reported as attributable to the unusual weather. Florida was the only state to escape the snow and sleet.

The lowest temperature recorded yesterday was 20 above at Asheville, N. C., but freezing temperatures were general in upper and middle Georgia.

BOVARD KILLS SELF IN NIGHT WITH REVOLVER

S. C. graduate of 1884, was president from 1909 until 1921.

U. S. C. Controller

Bovard served as assistant treasurer of U. S. C. from the time of his graduation until 1917 when he became controller. He was controller until 1921 when he was appointed vice-president.

Following a campus romance he married Hazel Berline Jackman, daughter of Wilson Wayne Jackman, El Reno, Oklahoma.

Bovard served as a major in the air service during the World War until December 1917 and from that time a member of the general staff at Washington, D. C. until January, 1919.

He was executive secretary to former Governor William D. Stephens of California from May, 1919, until June, 1920.

At the time of his death Bovard was on the board of directors of the Bank of California and belonged to several civic and fraternal organizations.

Information that set the time of the suicide as after 10:30 p. m. last night came from Arthur Baker, a friend of the Bovard family.

He said he visited with the university official from 4:30 p. m. until about 10:30 p. m.

In Good Spirits

Baker reported that Bovard seemed in excellent spirits. They had some sandwiches together and listened to the radio while they talked over various matters of interest to both.

Edward Garner, another friend of Bovard's, said he telephoned last night and made an appointment with Bovard for 10 a. m. today.

Bovard's friends said he journeyed to San Francisco to urge Governor-elect Ralph to appoint Francis A. Cochran, Los Angeles attorney and a graduate of U. S. C., as his executive secretary. Cochran received the appointment yesterday.

Dr. George Finley Bovard, father of the suicide, and his wife, were prostrated at their home here. The father and son had been closely associated in educational circles since Warren's youth. The parents had no intimation last night that their son was in his last hours of life.

Los Angeles, Dec. 18.—(UP)—Snow covered the cotton and tobacco fields of the south today as far as Augusta and Macon, Ga.

Highways were slippery with ice and sleet and automobile traffic had decreased 50 per cent, it was estimated, as motorists changed to street car transportation.

Two deaths were reported as attributable to the unusual weather. Florida was the only state to escape the snow and sleet.

The lowest temperature recorded yesterday was 20 above at Asheville, N. C., but freezing temperatures were general in upper and middle Georgia.

JEROME—To Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Jerome of 2029 Santa Ana street, Santa Ana, at Santa Ana Valley hospital, December 17, 1930, a daughter.

DEATHS

A WORD OF COMFORT

It is harmful both to you and to those with whom you speak for you to tell people how broken-hearted you are and how empty life is for you now. You see you have a responsibility to demonstrate what this sorrow is to make of you. If you keep thinking and talking about how terrible you feel you will not have the time nor the incentive to do anything else.

I know how your heart aches, but remember that your dear one in Paradise is counting up on your finishing your life task nobly and well so that you will be ready to go on to the higher service, and you have just time enough for that.

COUSIN—At her home near Talbert, Dec. 17th, 1930, Jennie B. Cousyn, age 62 years. She is survived by her husband, Ben Cousyn; two daughters, Mrs. Alice Folkerts, Santa Ana; Mrs. Sadie Bus, of Rock Rapids, Ia.; five sons, Jerry of Little Rock, Ia.; Henry, of Hawthorne, Calif.; Dave, of Santa Ana; and Jack, of Los Angeles. Announcement of funeral later by Harrell and Brown, 116 West Seventeenth street.

WHEELER—Dec. 17, 1930, at his home in Garden Grove, James Walter Wheeler, age 63 years. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Viola May Wheeler, and three daughters, Mrs. Lloyd Eckles, Santa Barbara; Mrs. Floyd Eckles, Los Angeles; and Mrs. E. P. Johnson, of Garden Grove. Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 10 a. m. at the Harrell and Brown funeral home, 116 West Seventeenth street, the Rev. O. W. Reinius officiating.

ALLCOCK—Dec. 18, 1930, at his home, 612 North Birch street, Lorenzo Allcock, age 66 years. He is survived by his wife, Ida; Frank Allcock, one daughter, Mrs. Frank Lamar, and two sons, Norvel and Leonard Allcock, all of Santa Ana. Announcement of funeral later by Harrell and Brown, 116 West Seventeenth street.

UNCLAIMED LETTERS—Letters for the following parties remain unclaimed for in the Post Office at Santa Ana, Calif., for the week ending Dec. 20, 1930.

Foreign—

Senora Guadalupe Fernandez. If not called for in 2 weeks they will be sent to the Dead Letter Office. When calling for the above please say advertised and give date.

JERNIGAN NOT TO ACCEPT BAY CITY POSITION

Reports to the effect that Sheriff Sam Jernigan will accept a police position with the county of San Francisco when his term expires here on January 5 are not true, according to a statement made by the sheriff today.

"I have been offered a position with the county of San Francisco, along the same line of work I am now doing," Sheriff Jernigan said, "but I want to live in Orange county and here I stay," he said.

The sheriff returned from San Francisco last night, at which time he was said to have been "talking things over," but his statement today is expected to stop rumors to the effect that he will leave the county.

"All my best friends are here in Orange county. I have been here a long time and I love Orange county too well to leave it. I have no idea what I am going to do after my term expires here, but whatever it is, it will be here. I am busy now carrying out the details of my office because I want to finish my term giving the people the best there is in me. We'll wait until after the first of the year to start doing something else," he said.

FINAL ARGUMENTS GIVEN IN COURT

Trials which have been occupying the attention of departments one and two of the superior court for the past few days were drawing to a close today, with arguments being made in connection with the case before Judge James L. Allen, and instructions being read to the jury by Judge H. G. Ames in the case of his court.

The trial before Judge Allen started on December 10, and involves money alleged to be due on a contract for services. The plaintiff is Dr. Lillian Smith and the defendant is Dr. George W. Forester. The action was termed during the arguments today by Attorney Charles Swanner, of the defense counsel, as an attempted "shakedown" of the physician by the young woman, who, he charged, took pictures surreptitiously and obtained certain documents illegally.

The case in Judge Ames' court is a damage action against the Motor Transit company brought by G. C. Rogers, who is seeking damages of $75,000 for injuries in an auto accident, which he charges was due to a bus of the defendant company.

Berger To Demand Raise From Braves

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 18.—Walter Berger, youthful Los Angeles cloutier who put the Boston Braves on the home run map last year, won't sign a contract with the Braves this spring unless Judge Emil Fuchs raises the ante to $12,500, he declared today.

NEW PARK SITE IS OFFERED BY SAN CLEMENTE

A new proposal to the state park commission concerning the creation of a state park along the beach at San Clemente was forwarded today to H. W. O'Melveny, a member of the commission, by H. H. Cotton, of San Clemente. It was learned at the session of the county planning commission. The new offer proposes sale of 6000 feet of beach frontage for park purposes at a price of $400,000.

This was learned following a report made to the commission by Dr. Walter Bigham, chairman, who was a member of a committee from Orange county that conferred with O'Melveny on the matter of beach parks recently. Dr. Bigham advised that the delegation was informed by the state park commission member that it intends to carry through its condemnation suit which has been filed in the county courts seeking possession of a tract of land between Huntington Beach and Newport Beach, but that it will purchase as much beach property as it can arrange to handle.

The new proposition concerning the San Clemente site leaves out the golf club and 160-acre course, which was included in the first proposal at a total cost of $500,000, because O'Melveny had stated the park commission would not be interested in the purchase of this part of the tract offered.

Theft of Croquet Set May Provide Child With Gift

Somewhere some child is about to receive a croquet set, maybe for Christmas.

And a stolen croquet set at that.

Oscar Field, of 1106 South Ross street, reported to police today that a set was stolen from his garage last night. Police cannot imagine what a thief would want with a croquet set, unless to give to some child for Christmas.

House on Fourth Street Is Burned

Fire of an unknown origin almost completely destroyed the home of Perry Martin, at 818 West Fourth street yesterday afternoon. The damage was approximately $700.

Fire department officials were of the opinion the fire started from a lighted candle being used in the house, it was reported.

Thief Takes Christmas Tree Lights

The latest type of thief reported to the Santa Ana police is the one who is stealing light bulbs from decorated Christmas trees, according to L. C. Rogers, chief of police.

The housekeeper at the Santa Ana Ebell club reported today that all the bulbs from a decorated tree on the north side of the clubhouse were stolen last night.

"Ah, it's some of these kids who need bulbs for the Christmas trees in their fraternity houses," soliloquized Sid Smithwick, assistant chief, when he read the report.

JUDGE AMES GIVEN PRESIDING CHAIR

Judge H. G. Ames, of department one of the Orange superior court, today was selected by the three superior court judges to act as presiding judge of the court for the ensuing year. He follows Judge G. K. Scovel in that capacity. Judge James L. Allen was the presiding judge preceding Judge Scovel. It is customary for the position to rotate among the three judges. Assignment of the various phases of court work such as juvenile matters, probate and criminal calendars, will be made soon by Judge Ames.

Judge Scovel On Riverside Bench

On an exchange with Riverside county, Judge G. K. Scovel tried a case in the superior court there yesterday while Judge George R. Freeman, of the Riverside superior court, occupied the bench in department three.

Judge Freeman presided over the trial of M. Avalos, who was charged with assault with a deadly weapon, jointly with another defendant, J. Cabrillo, who has previously been determined guilty and fined by the court. After witnesses testified that all of the blows struck at the occasion of the trouble were by Avalos' companion, the case was dismissed on a motion by the district attorney's office.

WESTMINSTER

WESTMINSTER, Dec. 18.—At the annual election of officers held on Sunday evening by the local Christian Endeavor society, Miss Shirley Day was made president, Miss Eldora Finley, vice president; Miss Marguerite McGuire, secretary, and Frank Eastwood, treasurer.

On Saturday evening the Christian Endeavor met at the home of the C. E. superintendent, Mrs. J. P. Peterson, and made candy for their Christmas offering at the county hospital on Sunday afternoon at which time 25 of their number joined in the singing in the wards and the distributing of candy and gifts to the patients. A number from the local church donated fruits and gifts to the C. E. for this gift giving.

A social time accompanied the candy making at the Peterson home. Those present at the party included Annabelle Day, Mary Lou Hare, Marguerite McGuire, Jewell Fagen, Simeon Cozad, Doyle Stockton, Vera Stone, Olive Stone, Elsie Stone, Margaret Edward, Hattie Edward, Charles Anderson, Walter Baker, Mrs. T. E. Turpin, Bill Turpin, Bud Hare, Donald Halladay, Nelson Morgan and Charles Parr.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Peterson, Mrs. T. E. Turpin and Mrs. Beatrice Knapp accompanied the young people on the hospital visit Sunday.

On last Sunday evening the Rev. Cyril Carter, new pastor of the local Presbyterian church, was pleasantly surprised by a visit from about 20 of the young people of the Calvary Presbyterian church of Long Beach. The group presented the closing song of the evening as a chorus number. The Rev. Mr. Carter has been assistant pastor of their church for several years. Special music is announced for next Sunday morning at the local church service at which time the pastor, the Rev. Cyril Carter, will present the Christmas sermon.

RANKINS FOULS COURTNEY WILMINGTON, Dec. 18.—(UP)—George Courtney won from Oscar Rankin on a foul in the second round of a main event here last night.

LOS ALAMITOS SUB DIVISION MAP APPROVED

The county planning commission at its session today, approved tentative maps of two tracts, one at Los Alamitos opening a subdivision and the other at La Habra, returning a former subdivision to acreage.

The Los Alamitos project was submitted by the Jotham Bixby company and the Bixby Land company and includes some 500 acres. The plots are understood to be not less than 20 acres in size. New streets and roadways proposed in the tract would join with Magnolia and Cerritos avenues and Los Alamitos boulevard.

The La Habra tract is located adjacent to the northern city limits of La Habra, and embraces 10 acres.

The building code ordinance, which has been drafted by a committee headed by Jules Markel, may be submitted for approval to the planning commission at its next meeting. Markel indicated today. Copies of the proposed ordinance have been circulated among the building trades for discussion and comment.

Nat Neff, engineer of the commission, reported that satisfactory progress is being made on a large map of the county which is being prepared to facilitate study of various projects in which the commission is interested.

Daughter of S. A. Woman Passes At San Anselmo Home

Word was received here this morning of the death of Mrs. Claire Stearns, who passed away at her home at San Anselmo, yesterday. Mrs. Stearns was the daughter of Mrs. Emma J. Bull of this city, and the sister of Miss Vance Plumb and Miss Pearl Plumb, also of this city. Reside relatives here the deceased is survived by her husband, Aubrey Stearns.

Mrs. Bull and her two daughters were with Mrs. Stearns for some time before her death. Funeral services will be held tomorrow in San Francisco.

KOREAN POPULATION UP SEOUL, Korea.—The population of Korea was 19,331,061 persons at the end of 1929, an increase of 141,362 persons, as compared with the figures for the previous year, according to the returns published by the government general of Korea.

ANAHEIM MAN CHARGED WITH OWNING STILL

The sheriff's office yesterday afternoon took into custody August Junkelt, 50, prominent Anaheim rancher, residing at Magnolia and Orange avenues, in connection with the capture of a huge still, last Monday, on his property at Buena Park.

Junkelt was booked at the county jail on a charge of owning and operating a still and then was released on bail of $3000, which was made almost immediately. He has not been arraigned on the charge.

At the same time it was learned that H. Meyer, 81, rabbit breeder, who resides near the barn in which the huge still was found, had been released on his own recognizance by Justice Kenneth Morrison. Meyer was arrested last Monday and was held for investigation in connection with the case.

Meyer claims he knows nothing about the still, but the district attorney's office is working on the theory that if Meyer or Junkelt is not guilty of ownership that they should know who is guilty and the charge against Junkelt was made on the grounds that he was responsible for what takes place on his property.

Junkelt holds considerable lands in and around Anaheim and Buena Park. It was said.

Another still was found on the Junkelt property by sheriff's officers about a year ago, the district attorney declared, but it was not as large as the one found Monday, which had a capacity of making 500 gallons of alcohol daily.

Merry Go 'Round Fall Injures Boy

Alfred Garcia, 5 year old Wintertown boy, was seriously cut about the head late yesterday when he fell out of a "merry-go-round" on the school property.

He was taken to the Orange County hospital, where a number of stitches were taken to close the wound. Today he was removed to his home.

Flavor-Protections Keep M-J-B Fresher .. Like Cellophane Protects Fine Foods

Note the "Hi-Test Vacuum Seal" of M-J-B's exclusive air-removal method

PARALLEL FLAVOR-PROTECTION SUCCESSES

Cake and dried fruit taste better because of their Cellophane Flavor-Protection. M-J-B Coffee tastes better because of its Hi-Test Vacuum Flavor-Protection.

FLAVOR is everything in coffee. Air destroys flavor completely. M-J-B is a rich blend of the finest coffees. It tastes fresher as it has 2 patented air-exposure preventions or flavor-protections no other coffee has.

Before opening, M-J-B is flavor-protected by its exclusive Hi-Test Vacuum method, giving more complete and uniform air removal.

No other coffee has the "Hi-Test Vacuum Seal." It is on the bottom of every M-J-B tin.

After opening, M-J-B is flavor-protected by its patented, snug-fitting cover, fitting tightly inside, not loosely outside the can as other covers do.

M-J-B is richer, fresher coffee. Ask tomorrow for M-J-B, the Flavor-Protected Coffee.

Hear M-J-B "Demi-Tasse Revue" every Wednesday, 8 to 8:30 p.m., over Columbia network.

The public is invited to attend.

FUNERAL SERVICES FOR VISTA BOY HELD

ORANGE, Dec. 18.—Funeral services for Robert Marion Gillogly, 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Gillogly, of Vista, were held yesterday afternoon at the Gillogly Funeral home, Robert was drowned Saturday in a pool near his home.

The family recently moved from Villa Park, which had been their home for a number of years. Flowers were banked in profusion around the casket.

The Rev. Walter M. Tipple, pastor of the Villa Park Congregational church, officiated. "Rock of Ages" and "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere" were sung by Mrs. Harry Skiles and Mrs. Linn Hanselman, accompanied by Ed C. O. Thompson.

The pall-bearers were Ed Stanley, Arch Streich, H. D. Nichols, Walter Adams, H. H. Gardner and H. R. Triff. Interment was in Fairhaven cemetery.

PORT WORK PRAISED

NEWPORT BEACH, Dec. 18.—The Newport harbor entrance channel is holding up better than expected so far, directors of the Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce were told yesterday at a meeting by City Engineer R. L. Patterson. The work completed early last summer provided a channel 250 feet wide and 15 feet deep at low tide. The harbor will be in fine shape for the winter regatta December 26, 27 and 28, Patterson said.

Provides Soup And Coffee For Idle

Santa Ana has no bread line but it has a free soup kitchen.

Walter Troxel, who operates a lunch counter in the Bowlers' inn on West Fourth street, has his own ideas on how to help the unemployed and he has been kept busy for the last three weeks furnishing free soup and coffee to those who need it.

Walt placed a sign on his window that he would give free soup and coffee to needy and deserving persons. That was three weeks ago and since that time Walt has fed on an average of 60 persons daily.

"It's not much," said Walt today, "but I've seen the time when a free bowl of soup would have been a God-send to me."

SANTA ANA GIRL IS AUTHOR OF LEGEND

Miss Virginia E. Thomas, daughter of George D. Thomas, 1912 North Flower street, who is matriculating at the University of Redlands, has written a legend, "The River's Tale," which merited a place in the "Spectrum," a quarterly literary magazine of student art.

Miss Thomas is a junior in the university and is specializing in the English department. Last year she attended the Santa Ana Junior college, where she was active in literary work, and on one occasion won a prize by a piece from her pen.

LOCAL CHURCH TO PRESENT PAGEANT

A Christmas pageant will be presented at the First Congregational church next Sunday night that promises something exceptional along the line of Christmas programs. Mrs. Estelle Card Beeman will direct a cast of 25 young people from the church in presenting the pageant by W. Russell Bowie, "The Christmas Pageant of the Holy Grail."

The minister of the church, Perry Frederick Schrock, called attention today to the fact that pageant will begin at 8:30 p. m. Sunday instead of the usual Sunday evening church hour. The church will be open at 6 p. m.

BARBER CITY

BARBER CITY, Dec. 18.—Mr. and Mrs. Howard Melvin have returned from a delightful motor trip north on which they combined business and pleasure. While away the Melvins purchased land at Oroville, which they contemplate occupying at a later date. At Palo Alto Mr. and Mrs. Melvin visited Mrs. Melvin's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Foster, former Barber City residents.

Mrs. Howard Carey and her three children, of La Verne, and Mrs. Carey's mother, Mrs. Marshall, visited for two days in the home of Mr. and Mrs. McArthur. The two families were friends in North Dakota.

ELECTRICITY, that mysterious force that washes your clothes, helps cook your meals, affords light and entertainment in every moment of your daily life is now keeping books for you in this Association.

BOOKS, kept by electricity insures rigid, impersonal accuracy and honesty in your accounts. Through this new system, now in effect, your receipts, the Company's books and the daily audit sheet are all three automatically printed in a single operation. Through an ingenious numbering system under lock and key any attempt at alteration of an account instantly changes the number and demands a written explanation for the auditors.

WITH this newest, most modern method of SAFEGUARDING your records, coupled to a reputation for integrity established through years of steady conservative growth in your community, this Association invites your SAVINGS.

presented by students of the elementary school here yesterday. The play was preceded by a short musical program which included selections by the first grade class, "Three Wise Kings of the Orient" and a selection by the seventh and eighth grade girls' glee club, "Tomorrow Will Be Christmas."

The Christmas play was presented under the direction of Miss Gunn and Miss Luxon. The cast of characters included Margaret Smith, Mrs. Ruggles; Clara Kilpatrick, Sarah Maude; Vincent Scott, Peter; June Saunders, Peoria; Virginia Benno, Kitty; Douglas Lawhead, Cornelius; John Gilling, Clement; Paul Krenwinkle, Larry.

Stage managers were Pauline Masters, Wilma Simpson and Gladys Jones.

At the conclusion of the program J. H. McLaughlin, principal of the school, spoke briefly, expressing his appreciation to members of the P.-T. A. for providing treats for the children of the school.

Prizes Awarded At Beach Party

NEWPORT BEACH, Dec. 18.—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wolfe were the big winners at this week's bridge party given by the auxiliary of the Newport Harbor post of the American Legion, one of a series of such parties at the Legion hut.

Mrs. Wolfe won second prize for women while her husband won second for men. That was a good night's work, but Mr. Wolfe also won the door prize.

Ross Hostettler captured first prize in the men's division and Mrs. Dora Eldredge first for women.

Mrs. Lita Finster won a Christmas turkey.

The affair was under the direction of Mrs. Gladys Thompson, who was aided by several other members of the auxiliary in serving plum pudding and coffee.

WOMAN'S CLUB SEEKING SITE FOR BUILDING

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, Dec. 18.—A Christmas party was held for the Capistrano Woman's club at the home of Mrs. Bert Ostot Tuesday afternoon, with Mrs. Fred Stottle and Mrs. W. H. Griswold as assistant hostesses.

The large spacious rooms of the Ostot country home, located a mile east of town on the Ortega highway, were bright with decorations in the holiday colors. Small tables, each with a miniature Christmas tree as a centerpiece, were placed for serving the 1 o'clock luncheon and in one corner of the dining room a large tree carried gifts, brought by the guests, which were distributed following the business meeting.

Nearly 50 club members and guests gathered for the luncheon, which was followed by the regular club meeting. At the close of the business session a quartet of high school girls appeared and sang the Christmas carols. Those in the group were the Misses Harriet Crumline, Betty Haladay, Norma Kenny and Marilyn Snyder, with Pauline Tyler as accompanist.

Mrs. Ferris Kelly, chairman of the carnival committee, reported $210.50 cleared by the undertaking. This amount, added to other funds on hand, places a total of over $500 in the building fund. Mrs. Guy Williams, chairman of the building committee and her co-workers were authorized to seek a building location for the proposed new clubhouse.

ENTERTAIN FRIENDS

PLACENTIA, Dec. 18.—Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Aldredge entertained a group of friends at a pot-luck dinner at their home Monday evening. Following the dinner cards were played, at which Mrs. J. D. McDonald held high score.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Denny and Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Beck, of Anaheim; M. L. Hall of Santa Ana; Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Carlson, Mr. and Mrs. McDonald, Mrs. Olive Bailey and Mr. and Mrs. Aldredge, Placentia.

Scouts Guests Of Placentia Legion

PLACENTIA, Dec. 18.—Placentia Boy Scouts and members of the Legion auxiliary were guests of the American Legion at a pot-luck dinner Tuesday evening in celebration of winning first prize in the Armistice day parade.

The dinner was held at the Chamber of Commerce hall with Mrs. Angle Carlson in charge and 90 were present. Frank Rospaw gave a talk on his trip to Mexico and Warren Bradford showed motion pictures of Hawaii. Leland Green gave several marimba numbers and the Boy Scouts gave an exhibition drill under the direction of Scoutmaster Claude Glenn and Troop Committeeman H. J. Rymer.

BUENA PARK GROUP PRESENTS PROGRAM

BUENA PARK, Dec. 18.—A Christmas program featured the Grand avenue P. T. A. meeting in the auditorium Tuesday afternoon. The Rev. Burton Y. Neal gave a short talk on the "Spiritual Significance of Christmas to the Child"; the Girls' Glee club sang three numbers with piano accompaniment by Stanley Kurtz and violin accompaniment by Joyce Campbell; the Boys' Glee club sang two Christmas carols and the orchestra played the opening selection. Stanley Kurtz directed the glee clubs and orchestra. Ten children from the first grade sang, under the direction of the teacher, Miss Lurline Trundy. The children were Eradina Manicobo, John Voornewald, Ruth Shunk, Stanley Smith, Jacqueline Wolff, Jack Melton, Julian Ritch, Betty Jean Humbert, Wilma Sutton and J. W. Bowman.

The president, Mrs. E. M. Engman, presided at the business session. The meeting date was changed from the fourth Thursday to the fourth Tuesday evening of each month at 7:30 o'clock. The next meeting will be January 20, and will be Father and Son night with Archie Raitt, Northern Orange County Y. M. C. A. secretary, as speaker. The subject will be "Character Education".

CONDITIONS IN RUSSIA CITED IN CLUB TALK

NEWPORT BEACH, Dec. 18.—Conditions in Russia are not as bad as they are often painted, according to the Rev. R. C. Stroup, of this city, who was a pinching speaker at the meeting of the Newport Beach Exchange club yesterday. Stroup spoke of Russia largely from the knowledge he has gained through his married sister living there.

If the Socialistic Soviet government in the vast former domain of the czars succeeds in what many believe is one of its aims, changing the form of government in other countries, it will be largely the fault of American capitalists, Stroup said. It is American machinery and American brains that are chiefly responsible for what has already been done in industrializing Russia and setting the pace outlined in the Soviet's five-year plan.

As far as starvation conditions are concerned, there is no such thing in Russia, he said, although they have not the great variety of foods Americans are accustomed to. Neither are the churches and religious people persecuted, although many of the too numerous churches were turned into schools, museums and warehouses. There is no religious persecution, and the government leaves the older people alone, although it opposes religion and especially the teaching of any religion to the young.

Instead of the usual Christmas tree the Exchange club this year will use its charity fund in helping needy people in the harbor district, it was decided. Handling of the matter was left to the welfare committee, headed by Harry D. Hyde.

The club will hold a joint meeting here with the Huntington Beach Rotary club January 21 and a joint meeting at Huntington Beach January 30.

BUENA PARK STAR HOLDS YULE PARTY

BUENA PARK, Dec. 18.—One of the most delightful affairs of the Yuletide season was the annual Christmas party given by the Buena Park chapter, Order of Eastern Star, in connection with the regular meeting in the Masonic temple.

Mr. and Mrs. William Malott, the worthy patron and worthy matron, had charge of decorations in the lodge room.

"Christmas in Other Lands" was the subject of interesting narrations by several of the members. James Kilgour told of the Yuletide season in England; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Cummins, of Alaska; Mrs. Lucia Little, Germany; John Johnson, Sweden; Mrs. Ellen Nelson and Caryl Snyder, Canada, and Mrs. Lottie Haggarty, Ohio.

Dancing was enjoyed following the program, music being furnished by Charles Landell on the piano and later all were invited to the banquet room, where Mrs. Ruth Eberhard, Mrs. Rose Lemlin, Mrs. Pauline Johnson and Mrs. Lucia Little, the hostesses for the evening, served refreshments.

NEWPORT BEACH, Dec. 18.—A permit to drill a well in the Newport Beach district has been issued to T. F. Gesell by the state.

Beach Group In Party On Dec. 23

SEAL BEACH, Dec. 18.—Members of the Girl Reserves will hold their Christmas party at the Community Methodist church next Tuesday evening, when the girls will exchange gifts. A beautifully decorated Christmas tree will be a feature of the holiday decorations.

Girls belonging to the organization are requested to bring "white gifts" to the party, which will be distributed to needy families in the community. Mrs. R. E. Phares is advisor.

300 Attracted To Christian Church Convention

MISSION WORK DISCUSSED AT ORANGE MEET

ORANGE, Dec. 18.—Missions at home and abroad were discussed in interesting sessions held at the First Christian church here yesterday, when 300 persons from the Santa Ana district were present and when Dr. Stephen J. Corey, president of the United Christian Missionary society, was the principal speaker of the day. "The World Mission for Jesus" was the theme of the convention, which was one of 180 such events planned for the present month throughout the nation.

"The Motive of Missions" was given by the Rev. Alden Lee Hill, pastor of the Highland Park Christian church. Miss Tessie Williams, who is home on furlough from the mission field in Africa, gave talks on the mission work.

A pot-luck dinner was served at the noon hour with Mrs. F. L. Ainsworth, Mrs. M. O. Ainsworth and Mrs. Emma Carlson in charge. At 6:30 o'clock a banquet was served by the members of the Loyal Women's class. The attendance during the day was about 200 and there were 100 representatives present from Huntington Beach, Santa Ana, La Habra, Fullerton, Brea and Orange.

Dr. Corey said in part: "People are not discussing minor topics today in their Christian work. The deeper theme of the world work is before them. Jesus brought a world program. In His own town at the beginning of His ministry, He brought a world program of world missions to preach, teach and heal in tender ministry, breaking down caste prejudice. The last commission to His disciples was a big task, not in sections but a great program in world missions. Jesus had a world mission, a passion for souls.

"What was it drove Christians out over the world? The disciples believed in world missions. Today the church needs a passion for world missions, a personal savior as the great theme of the mission of Jesus."

Dr. Corey told of the organized task as shown in the six great boards of the society. Eleven fields are covered in the home mission field, with 89 home missionaries, 114 home missionary pastors, 121 home mission churches, eight home mission evangelists, 18 Negro evangelists and 3071 converts last year. Eleven foreign fields are covered with 825 stations and out stations, 214 churches, 1801 native workers, 37 hospitals, 512 schools, 463,000 received medical treatment. There are six homes for the aged caring for 229. Six children's homes in America and caring for 1297 children.

The Rev. F. T. Porter, state secretary, spoke on state missions. He said: "The state board is the connecting link between the church and the mission field. It is the base of supplies."

The Rev. Alden Lee Hill spoke on "Motive, Missionary," and during the course of his talk said, "Christ is our motive for world missions. Win the world by winning individuals. Christ is our supreme motive power. Civilization is the result of the gospel of Jesus Christ. Take God out of our program and we have a non-Christian nation. Jesus was the greatest missionary the world has ever had. In Christ we have the great motive for missions. Believing what we do, can we do less than carry the gospel to the entire world?"

Miss Lula Garten, state secretary, stated that the Livingston academy in Tennessee for the mountain boys and girls will be one of the activities of this district this year. The principal, 18 teachers and an agricultural teacher are sent by the federal government, the speaker said. The taxes in the district are not enough to support the school for many years and many children go to school only two or three months a year in the surrounding territory, she declared.

Miss Williams told of the work in the African field. "Eight years ago when I went to Mondombe there were four stations with 8000 converts; now there are 24,000 in the foreign field and one-half are in the Congo district," Miss Williams said. "My work takes me from village to village encouraging the teachers, calling back those who have drifted away and giving medical aid. There are 35 outposts. The natives are always ready to meet the missionaries as they come to their villages. In the boarding school there are 100 boys and 12 girls. In the hospital many diseases are treated."

Musical Program Given for P. T. A. Of Olive School

OLIVE, Dec. 18.—The P. T. A. of Olive met yesterday at the school house at 2:30 o'clock. Mrs. A. W. Wallace presided. Musical numbers were given by the first and second grades. The kindergarten band gave a number of selections. Candy boxes were filled to be given to the children of the school the next day from the teachers of the school.

Mrs. Walter Fairhair was chairman of refreshments.

GUILD GROUP HEARS SPEECH BY MISSIONARY

ORANGE, Dec. 18.—Members of the Bertha Epley guild were seated at one table at the banquet given at the First Christian church here last night as a part of the Santa Ana district convention at the First Christian church. The members of the guild sang a song, the words of which were written by Mrs. W. M. Whitney especially for the occasion. Mrs. Neleta Wolfe was the accompanist.

Miss Tessie Williams, missionary to Africa, spoke during the banquet hour. "I am glad to be in the field with such an organization as the United Christian Missionary society behind me," she declared. "We missionaries met to talk of the cut to be made in the field. Could we dispense with the Oregon, the boat that carries us up and down the Congo, and travel on the government boats? Should we close the school for women, or for boys, or sell the saw mill and go back to hand work with the timber?"

"We missionaries are not afraid of the natives that man our boat, but we are of the white men on the government boats. We have stopped clothing the boys and girls in the school and give them money instead to buy their supplies with. One boy suggested that we do away with the bandages and use the leaves to bind up the wounds, as do the natives. Are we going to deny ourselves or deny Christ?"

YULE TIME OF 80 YEARS AGO IS DESCRIBED

ORANGE, Dec. 18.—When members of circle No. 1 met in the home of Mrs. J. A. Green this week, members told of their first Christmas.

Of the memories of past Christmas days perhaps none proved more interesting than the story related by Mrs. Sarah McKibben, who recalled a Christmas 80 years ago, when she was a little girl of six years and ran away to the schoolhouse to see her first Christmas tree.

Slipping away from home in the afternoon, Mrs. McKibben, who was then little Sarah Shaw, made her way across snowy fields to the log school house, where she waited until the women of the neighborhood arrived to trim the tree. The tree was only a small, bare hickory tree and the little girl hid under one of the long benches which served the pupils as seats and watched as the women wound long strings of popcorn around the branches. Candles which had been made from tallow by the workers were fastened to the tree, making what little Sarah thought to be one of the most beautiful sights in the world.

Mrs. McKibben related that she was afraid to let the women know she had seen them and she was filled with terror as she heard them go out and lock the door. However, the little girl tried the windows and having opened one, soon was on her

Five Gallons Of Oil Stolen From Garage In Orange

ORANGE, Dec. 18.—A Brunswick, 409 North Pine street, reported to police headquarters yesterday that five gallons of cylinder oil had been taken from his garage some time during the past few days.

GIFT EXCHANGE IS ENJOYED BY CLUB MEMBERS

OLIVE, Dec. 18.—The Get Together club of St. Paul's Lutheran church was entertained for its final meeting of the year Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. Walter Otte and Mrs. William F. Paulus. The hall had been decorated with red garlands, bouquets of holly and a pretty Christmas tree gracing the center of the stage. The meeting was opened with the hymn "Joy to the World," and a prophesy from Isaiah, read by the Rev. E. H. Kreidt. The children of the four lower grades sang two Christmas songs.

Mrs. Edwin Brelje and Mrs. Raymond Meierhoff were appointed to audit the treasurer's books. The committee chosen to submit menus to the directors of the Olive Hillsides Groves association for the annual meeting and dinner to be held the latter part of January is composed of Mesdames Edwin Brelje, Jake Timken, Otto Guenther, August Stohlman, William E. Paulus, August Heilmann, Walther Otte, Rudy Heman, Raymond Meierhoff and Emil Lemke.

An interesting part of the afternoon was the exchange of gifts by the members present: Mesdames Arthur Harms, Walther Timken, Ray Meierhoff, Fred Kamrath, George Boehmer, William E. Paulus, Otto Guenther, Ed Guenther, George Heilmann, Henry Luchau, Albert Wechnack, Edwin Brelje, Rudy Heman, August Heilmann, Robert Lemke, Jake Timken, Arthur Paschall, Walter Timme, O. Burd, August Stohlman, Henry Timken, William F. Paulus, Emil Lemke, George Lemke, A. W. Schmid, Walter Otte and Martin Heman and Miss Rosa Brott. Mrs. August Lemke and Mrs. Louise Paschall were guests of the club.

LAND OF REINDEER DESCRIBED IN TALK

ORANGE, Dec. 18.—The land where the reindeer live was described by W. W. Perry, who took the role of Santa Claus at the Christmas party given by members of the Women's Relief corps at the Smith and Grote hall yesterday afternoon.

Gifts were distributed to each person present and 40 boxes of fruit and home made candy attractively wrapped, were placed at the foot of the gaily decked Christmas tree. The boxes were sent to the 14 members of Gordon Granger post of this city and the 26 widows of veterans of the Civil war living here. Veterans present were S. A. Wiley, George Hall, Francis Ranney and John McKibben.

A program included Christmas carols sung by Mrs. S. M. Higgins and Mrs. Nellie Tannehill with Mrs. Ella Gilgore as the accompanist. Mrs. Frieda Porter gave a reading. The event was opened with a dinner when red candles and cotoneaster were used as a part of the pretty appointments for the table.

Two new members Mrs. Blanche Campbell and Mrs. James Lusk were initiated.

way home. Her misdeed in running away so troubled her that she was indeed surprised to find a doll with a shining china head and china shoes beside her stocking on Christmas morning.

Mrs. Nellie Armstrong of Selma, was a special guest of the circle.

GOLDEN RULE, NOT RULE OF GOLD, IS NEEDED

ORANGE, Dec. 18.—"We need the golden rule, not the rule of gold," declared the Rev. Alden Lee Hill in speaking at the Santa Ana district convention held at the Orange Christian church yesterday.

"We face great problems. Great numbers of Americans want a job, which is fertile soil for worry, fear, suffering and hatred," the speaker said. "There is a growing religious indifference. Fifty-six per cent of the young people in the United States are not in any Sunday school. We face trying and testing days for the church. Our vision is dim. We face anew the world mission of Christ. Go ye into all the world and teach the gospel. It burned its message into my soul. God has not changed His mind. I am resolved not to do my own will but the will of Him that sent Me. Atheism is telling the rising generation there is no God. We need the golden rule, not the rule of gold. The gospel is the sure power. The gospel is the only way of salvation. Preach the gospel, say it, sing it. Bring of our tithes and offerings and get a cleared vision of our task, Christ's church, Christ's mission. Fit the church and the world mission together."

"The field is the world. The church needs the task Jesus has given. Whenever the church rises to its task, new life will be in its evangelism. Exercise according to our strength, ability and powers. Be driven to the foot of Jesus. We cannot go further until we go deeper. Have a missionary spirit, be acquainted with self denial. Finance out of our surplus is an insult to God. Share our very living with Christ. Get a clearer vision of world missions."

GRADE PUPILS PRESENT PLAY IN EL MODENA

EL MODENA, Dec. 18.—The auditorium of the Roosevelt school of El Modena was filled to capacity Tuesday evening when the play, "The Other Wise Man," by Henry Van Dyke, was given by the pupils of the school.

The stage settings, costumes and decorations were designed by the teachers. The accompaniments were played by Mrs. Addy and Mrs. Alvin Marshall. The leading characters of the play were as follows: Artaban, Mary Robinson; readers, Ruth Holman, Marylee Walker, Helen Price, Rosemary Filppen, Ruby Armstrong and Virginia Humfres; sick Hebrew, Momoye Murakami; the Hebrew woman, Eleanor Lemke; the child, Carol Robinson; the girl, Barbara Sutherland; the Roman soldiers, Bob Paul, Rodney Stone, Donald Smiley and Dandle Lan Franco; the Magi, Earl Barnett, Percy Groover, James Walforth, Muioru Kusuda, Charles Armstrong, Bob Paul, Wayne

Christmas Party Being Planned For Beginners' Class

ORANGE, Dec. 18.—The Christmas party of pupils of the beginners' department of the First Presbyterian church will be held the afternoon of December 23 from 3 to 5 o'clock in the sunny room of the Sunday school building occupied by this department.

Miss Sue Scarrit is planning to make the event a most happy affair and the children have been asked to bring gifts for the children of needy Mexican families in this vicinity. The gifts which may be toys, food, groceries or clothing, are to be distributed the following day.

Cradle roll babies and their mothers are to be guests of members of the primary department.

Gray and Miles White; Three Wise Men, Carl Johnson, John Skiles and Ernest Joseph.

The choruses sung by various grades of the school included "Star of the East," "It Came Upon a Midnight Clear," "We, Three Kings of Orient Are," "Away in the Manger" and "Silent Night." The same program was given in the Lincoln building Wednesday evening.

SEZ—SWANNY

"I'll bet yer five dollars I've got what yer Boy Friend wants for Christmas!"

"The checks are bigger since I joined the Exchange"

This is instantly relayed to the 23 District Exchanges and 210 local associations through the News Bureau Teletype. By advertising, the Exchange has won preference for its Sunkist brand with the trade and public, has popularized new uses and opened new markets at home and abroad. As a logical result, the Exchange actually does average the highest net return for its members.

Interested non-member growers—Learn the facts. The manager of your nearest District Exchange or Exchange Association will be glad to answer your questions and acquaint you with the many reasons why over 75% of California and Arizona citrus growers find Exchange membership profitable. Or write, Growers Service Bureau, Box 530, Station C, Los Angeles.

Sunkist

ORANGES LEMONS GRAPEFRUIT

WHAT THE EXCHANGE IS: The California Fruit Growers Exchange is a non-profit organization of more than 12,500 citrus fruit growers, producing over 75% of the California and Arizona citrus crop, operated by and for them on a cooperative basis. Its object is to develop the national and international market for its Oranges, Lemons and Grapefruit and to provide a marketing organization that will sell the fruit of its members most advantageously and at least expense. Receipts from sales, less only actual cost of operation, are returned to growers. Applications are received through all the Exchange's 210 local packing associations, 23 District Exchanges, or at the central office in Los Angeles.

"I'm with the Exchange from now on—for the one, big reason that I average higher returns for my crops under the Sunkist brand."

"I've proved it to my complete satisfaction—and I've tried it in and out. I've sold for cash. I've shipped through other organizations."

"My common sense has told me that the Exchange ought to find the best market for my fruit. It sets the pace. It is able to know the market as other agencies can't hope to. Its fruit has the benefit of a long-standing brand preference. And it stands to reason that it should give a better service at lower cost because it has the advantages of large scale operation."

"In spite of cold, hard reasoning I've tried the other methods. I've checked them all in dollars and cents. And now I'm in the Exchange for good—because on the average, year in and year out, short crop and heavy, the checks are bigger when I sell with the majority."

The facts are that no fresh fruit industry in the world has sales and service facilities comparable to those of the Exchange. And without them, none is able to get comparable returns. Trained salesmen, operating in 55 sales districts, blanket the market and furnish instant sales information to the Los Angeles office.

You can't Concentrate if you are Tired Out

Eat or drink something sweet and you will overcome fatigue. Sugar is quickly digested and its energy is immediately available.

THE PRESSURE of daily business often makes one nervous. Fatigue follows. Concentration is virtually impossible when there is nervous fatigue. To avoid this condition, which invariably occurs from mid-afternoon on, take a moment to eat or drink something sweet. A piece of candy, cakes or cookies, ice cream, or a sweetened beverage are appropriate.

NEW OFFICERS FOR FULLERTON CLUB ELECTED

FULLERTON, Dec. 18.—Sam Adams was elected president of the Fullerton 20-30 club for the first six months of the coming year last night at the meeting of the club in McFarland's cafe.

Other new officers include Floyd Kiker, vice president; Afton Reinert, secretary-treasurer; Robert Hughes, chaplain; Leonard England, tall twister, and trustees, Harry Steadman, Robert Bailey, Frank Livingston, Ralph Layton and Ben Kraemer. New officers will take office the first meeting of the new year.

History of the growth of engineering education was the subject of an address by Gilbert Dunston, professor of engineering at the University of Southern California, who stated that the first engineering fraternity was formed 150 years after the colonization of the new world.

"The first college formed was to educate for the ministry, and the first fraternity was formed to break down the complete control of the college faculty," Dunston said. The first fraternity was of a literary nature, the Phi Beta Kappa.

"The present day fraternity has developed into a real sincere society for the promotion of the college interests as an organization of the students."

Dunston explained that engineering grew out of work in physics, the first engineering which was specialized in civil engineering, followed later by mechanical and electrical phases. Many other branches have since been organized to make it more specialized.

"The college must realize that its real purpose is to emphasize a new type of work rather than a type of individual," Dunston said. Dunston concluded by declaring that college graduation is truly a commencement and the student should move with the trend and continually strive to learn more as a preparation for future life.

No regular meetings of the club will be held during the next two weeks. On December 22, the club will visit the Anaheim club and on December 30 will meet with the Santa Ana group.

FULLERTON TO VOTE ON WATER DISTRICT SOON

FULLERTON, Dec. 18.—Approval of a first reading of a resolution setting the date for the election of the city of Fullerton to decide whether or not the city shall become a member of the Metropolitan Water district was given by the Fullerton city council last night. The date for the election was set for January 20.

Plans for the issuance of a bulletin to property owners to show the water condition in the city and the necessity of joining with other cities of Southern California in obtaining water from an outside source were discussed by members of the council and it was decided that pamphlets will be sent to each voter setting forth the facts.

A plan for increasing the size of the landing field at the city airport was presented to council members by E. D. Sturzeniger, who asked the attitude of the council in regard to granting him a lease on the city airport for a term of 10 years. In return for the privilege of the lease, Sturzeniger would purchase an additional 26 acres west of the city airport for the purpose of making a longer runway, and giving the local airport national recognition.

The enlarged airport would be named the Fullerton airport according to Sturzeniger's plan and would be improved with many modern facilities permitting the construction of additional hangars and the general improvement of the field as a commercial airport. It was pointed out that since the Fullerton field provides the sole airport facilities for the surrounding communities, any improvements in the field facilities would further increase the use of the landing field. Although taking no definite action, the council members expressed a favorable attitude toward the project and will study the matter before taking any further action.

A communication from the state highway commission regarding the matter of the city requiring parallel parking of cars on Spadra road as a means of assisting in traffic problems was discussed by the council in relation to the proposed widening of the street north of Chapman avenue, and it was pointed out that with the widening project further north, the parallel parking in the business district would further relieve traffic congestion in the central part of town. Definite action was postponed until after further progress has been made in the widening project when the matter will be taken under consideration.

Reporting on the matter of the city of Fullerton establishing a tax collection department, City Attorney Launer pointed out that the establishment of such a department would cost the city more than it is now paying the county for the service.

Plans for carrying out the fifth unit of the city water expansion project were approved by the city council and the departments of the city were authorized to proceed with the project. The fifth unit is in the eastern portion of the city and is the last part of the project which was decided upon by the city officials last spring.

Progress in the North Spadra widening project was reported by City Engineer C. M. Thorpe, who stated that securing of deeds and rights of way from property owners in the adjacent property is the next step in the project.

Hold Funeral Of James H. McMillan

FULLERTON, Dec. 18.—Funeral services for James H. McMillan, 45, resident of Fullerton for the past nine years, who died Tuesday at the Anaheim hospital, were held today at 2 p. m. in the McAulay and Suters funeral chapel.

Mr. McMillan, formerly a driller for the Continental Oil company, is survived by his widow, Mrs. Minta McMillan, and two stepdaughters, Helen and Stella Caldwell; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. McMillan; three sisters, Miss Grace McMillan, Huntington Beach; Mrs. Agnes Taggart, Long Beach; and Mrs. Rachael Bowers, Bolsa, and a brother, Don McMillan, of Huntington Beach.

MAIN ST. AT THIRD

When you read The Register you get the best service on local, county, state and national sports, the field being entirely covered by competent writers and well-trained staff correspondents.

Billy Evans, William Braucher, Frank Getty, Robert Edgren, George Kirksey and Davis J. Walsh are just a few of the sports experts who contribute regularly to The Register.

Although actually the young man is as very definitely uncertain about his scholastic future as on the day of his matriculation at Santa Ana high school, latest reports have Al Reboin, the prize prep athlete catch of the season, enrolling at Notre Dame university next year.

The same source of information has Norman Franklin, Long Beach's "Ramblin' Redhead," going to South Bend, Ind., where Franklin has definitely and officially denied he intends to become a Rockne Rambler.

Reboin has neither affirmed nor denied the rumors concerning his plans because he simply cannot do so.

He candidly admits he doesn't know where he is going.

One thing is relatively certain, however, about Reboin as well as Franklin. Neither will attend a California four-year college next fall because neither will be eligible.

While their credentials average well, they are not quite high enough to meet the stiffening standards at U. S. C., Stanford and California.

Therefore, the boys will have to transfer to the larger institutions from junior college or spend another term in prep school.

Reboin, who graduates from high school in February, probably will enroll at Santa Ana junior college. He is expected to enter Long Beach junior college.

There is no doubt but that Reboin will be a big league football player. He is just about the best bet the Saints ever have sent out, and that is taking in plenty of territory.

Reboin would just suit Rockne's style. The Rock likes his backs fast and shifty.

"Audacious Al" would make a great halfback under "Pop" Warner's system, too. Warner likes giant quarterbacks and fullbacks but always has a light, fast man of the Hyland-Moffatt type to go with them.

Howard Jones could use Reboin, too. The Trojan boss usually has a ball-packer of Al's size and versatility in his backfield. Witness Don Williams and Orr Mohler.

Critics do not believe Reboin will be much of an asset to "big time" trick teams and they may be right. It is probable that the Saint star has his peak on the underpath.

He has been a fine high school hurdler but his legs are too short and he appears too heavily muscled to improve much as a timber toppler. He may develop as a vaulter by dropping the exhausting races because he has speed, form and shoulder development.

Other sterling prospects besides Reboin and Franklin were developed in Southern California prep schools this season.

Walt Schell, 210-pound Redondo Beach fullback who is six feet-four, received more publicity than the others. Walt was just a "Hollow Schell" in Redondo's championship game with Long Beach, a big bust who took more time out for injuries than all the rest of the players put together. For that reason Schell had to take a lot of adverse criticism. Nevertheless, the big kid should develop into a fine college football player, probably at tackle or end. He is big and fast. Strength may come with age. He is only 18 and a boy who grew too rapidly for his own physical good. But in a couple of years he should be heard from. They say he is Stanford-bound.

Santa Ana will turn out two unpublicized players this year who figure to make good wherever they go. One is Harold Pangle, the fullback; the other Hideo Higashi, an end.

Pangle is big, fast and experienced. Higashi is as smart as a whip, fast and strong.

Higashi is a Japanese lad and if he makes the grade at some big college would be the most colorful player on the coast. Japanese people are naturally small but Hideo, who was simply hideous to all opposition this season, is bulky, rugged and tireless.

Pangle and Higashi are headed for Santa Ana junior college, eventually for U. S. C. or Stanford, it is said.

"Cotton" Warburton, the tow-headed San Diego flash, is not likely to cut much mustard on the big teams. He is a small, frail lad of the Rocky Kemp-Al Maloney type—just another football player

Dons Beat Whittier College Quintet, 28-26

BELETED RALLY TURNS TIDE TO FOOTIE'S FIVE

Coming from far behind in the last few minutes of play, Coach Bill Foote's Santa Ana junior college squad sprung the first surprise of the 1930-31 Southern California basketball season by defeating the Whittier college varsity, 28 to 26, at Whittier last night.

The Dons trailed at the end of the third quarter, 24-16, and were being outmaneuvered at every turn but suddenly did a rightabout face and got up just in time to turn in their third win in their thus far undefeated campaign.

The count at half-time favored Santa Ana by one point, 16-15. During the first half the play was intense and even although the Dons showed a 5-4 superiority in field goals. Emmett Seacord, center, paced the Footmen at the outset, sinking three baskets to one apiece for Captain Orry Schuchardt and Hal Dunham.

Grunsky, center, and "Lucky" Lindley, forward, found their batting eyes in the third quarter and the Poets jumped ahead, increasing their advantage rapidly while their guards held the Santa Ana sharpshooters scores.

The Dons out loose again in the final period, however, and with Schuchardt and Lindley both dropping two through the mesh and Dunham and Seacord contributing one each, tied, then passed the Poets just before the gun.

Whittier's second team defeated Santa Ana's second string, 19-17, in a curtain-raiser. Walbridge, Beatty and Beall were outstanding for the Don reserves.

The lineup:

FIRST TEAMS
Santa Ana (28) (26) Whittier
Schuchardt (8) F... (7) Baker
Dunham (5) F... (3) Dell
Lindley (6) G... (11) Grunsky
Gardick (2) G... (4) Duncan

Substitutions
Santa Ana—Johnson (1) for Gardick.
Whittier—Jones for Baker, Baker for Jones, Ehrlich for Brunsky, Jones for O'Grain.

SECOND TEAMS
Santa Ana (17) (19) Whittier
Walbridge (5) F... (2) Myers
Beatty (4) G... (8) Bryson
Lindley (2) G... (1) Batson
Beall (1) G... (4) Davidson

Substitutions
Santa Ana—Appley (2) for Pomeroy, Pomeroy for Walbridge, McChesney for Lindsey, Lindsey for McChesney, McChesney for Beall.

23 SCHOOLS IN ANNUAL BEACH HOOP TOURNEY

All the "big shots" will see action tomorrow in the Southern Counties basketball tournament which swings into its second day at the Huntington Beach high school gymnasium.

Beginning at 8 a. m. when Bill Cole's Tustin quintet faces the winner of today's set-to between Excelsior and Fullerton, games will be played at every hour Friday.

Semi-finals, consolation finals and finals will be held Saturday afternoon and night.

Teams scheduled to play today were Excelsior vs. Fullerton, Brea-Olinda vs. Whittier, San Juan Capistrano vs. Chino, Orange vs. Occidental, Newport Harbor vs. Chaffey, Santa Ana vs. Garden Grove, Anaheim vs. Riverside.

Santa Ana and Garden Grove clash at 7:30.

Teams which drew a bye today and will not see action until tomorrow were Tustin, Sweetwater, Grossmont, San Diego, Hemet, Redlands, San Bernardino, Huntington Beach and Banning.

In all, 23 schools were entered in the tournament.

Rockne Goes For Rest To Mayo Clinic

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Dec. 18.—(UP)—Knute Rockne, Notre Dame football coach, left last night for Mayo Brothers' hospital at Rochester, Minn., where he will undergo treatment for the leg circulation ailment which kept him in bed during most of the 1929 season.

Rockne's strenuous 1930 activities brought a partial renewal of the ailment, and he plans to take a long rest. After a brief stay at Rochester, Rockne plans to spend the winter in Florida or California.

NO. MR. TUNNEY WILL CONTINUE IN RETIREMENT

BY BILL CORUM
(I. N. S. Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Dec. 18.—"If I should fight Schmeling who would be the champion?" asked Gene Tunney.

"Schmeling."

"You. That is, you could get whatever you asked for within or without reason. A fight between you and Schmeling next summer would bring back Rickard's golden days of boxing. It would be the biggest fight since you fought Dempsey and maybe bigger than that. The time is ripe for another real battle of the century. Schmeling is a foreigner. You, an American and a retired undefeated champion who quit in his fighting prime and are still young enough to come back to it. Where would you turn to make a softer half million dollars?"

"I can't think off-hand," he confessed, smiling. "Gee, it would be nice under the proper conditions and the right auspices."

For a fleeting minute, as we sat there alone in his tiny office high above the East river, I thought the big ex-marine, who never looked more a champion in all his life, was going to do it. And the first thing I thought about was that headline, in type as black as Kid Chocolate and as big as Carnera's alphabet blocks—Tunney returns to fight Max.

What a story and what a beat! But the mood and the moment passed.

"I haven't changed," he went on. "I'd tell you among the first if I had. But when I resigned from boxing, I resigned, as you have printed more than once. I'll admit if I were going to come back this would be the logical time. There's no real match in sight for next summer."

"Schmeling probably doesn't want to fight Sharkey again. You can hardly blame him for that. Sharkey had the fight in the hollow of his hand. He reminded me of some animal stalking a prey that was at his mercy until he was ready to strike. He made his best fight. Yet he lost. He had Dempsey in even worse case in the first round. Yet he lost. I don't see how he can ever be champion."

"But Schmeling might have a far easier time with me because I haven't fought for a long time. I was in the gym the other day playing handball and Jimmy Bronson came along. I waved to him and yelled: 'I'm getting ready for a comeback, how do I look?' He knew I was fooling but he was astonished at my condition. The truth is it was never better. I may be two or three pounds overweight today. I have just returned from a trip to Pittsburgh during which I took no exercise. But it is nothing I can't correct in two days."

DELHI BOXING CLUB IS 'DARK' TONIGHT

The Orange County Athletic club will be "dark" tonight in keeping with Promoter H. T. Foust's policy of closing his arena during Christmas holidays. The club will reopen after the first of the year but whether Monday or Thursday then will be the county's "Fite Nite" has not been announced by the Delhi promoter.

THREW FIRST SPITTER
Elmer Strickland, pitching for Brooklyn Nationals back in the early eighties, was the first pitcher to deliver the spitball. Today, with a ban against the delivery in the major leagues, only three are left of a once bountiful crop.

BLAME IT
If you notice anything "tigerish" about members of the South Carolina football team, blame it on their associations during the 1930 season. The South Carolinians played Clemson, Auburn and Sewanee, whose elevens are nicknamed "Tigers."

SCHAAF IRKED BY MAX BAER'S COCKY CHATTER

BY L. S. CAMERON
(United Press Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, Dec. 18.—Maxie Baer, Livermore, Cal., parrot, kept up his verbal assault on Ernie Schaaf of Boston today as he finished preparations for his physical attack on the down-easterner schedule tomorrow night.

Baer and Schaaf are starting what eastern promoters hope will be a heavyweight renaissance.

Not since the Jack Sharkey-Max Schmeling fight in June, which ended in a foul, has there been any real activity among the heavyweights in this boxing center.

Sellout Promised
Originally scheduled as a "fill-in" engagement between more important fights, the Baer-Schaaf bout now promises to be a sellout for Madison Square Garden.

Baer's incessant chatter on the subject of his own greatness has set the fans talking about the fight, and they'll go to see the things they discuss.

Maxie is deeply interested in the current wrangling over the next world's championship fight. He feels that he is playing an important part in the proceedings for he believes that one day he will be the titleholder. He wants to meet Sharkey in his first eastern appearance and has made it plain that "after I beat Schaaf" he will go after a bout with the ex-gob.

Sharkey to Second Schaaf
Sharkey, incidentally, will have a splendid chance to study this sturdy Californian Friday night for he will second Schaaf.

Baer's bombast has not made a hit with Schaaf. He believes that he has been pushed unfairly into the No. 2 position in the scheduled fight.

Quite unable to talk as often, as fast and as loudly as Baer, Schaaf merely points to his record of fights won and to the fact that he has never been knocked out in more than 100 starts. He has not been off his feet in a ring. And this record covers two winning fights with Tommy Loughran, one with Johnny Risko and another which he lost to K. O. Christner.

Charity Game Tickets On Sale Here

A block of approximately 100 tickets for the Coliseum charity game December 27, between Knute Rockne's Notre Dame All-Stars and the West-South All-Stars, went on sale here today at the Elks club.

The seats are located on the 30-yard line, according to E. R. Majors, secretary of Santa Ana lodge No. 794, who has charge of the ticket sale here.

HARRIS THINKS DETROIT FIXED FOR 1931 RACE

By LES CONKLIN
(I. N. S. Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Dec. 18.—While other managers vainly try to put over trades, "Bucky" Harris, Detroit's chief of the Detroit Tigers, is content to stand pat on his present roster of ball players for the 1931 campaign.

"I'm keeping my eyes and ears open and if we have a chance to strengthen the club we'll trade," says the dapper Detroit. "But there are just a few players like Carl Reynolds of the White Sox whom everybody is after, and nobody seems to be able to come to terms."

"Of course, I could use another good catcher, but good catchers in this league are mighty scarce. There probably will be more trading next spring when managers will know more definitely what they will need and will be forced to plug up the gaps. Our club is well fixed right now."

May Sign Dugan, Schang
Harris may sign Joe Dugan and Wally Schang, old favorites in the American league, as coaches. He also may obtain Le Blue from the St. Louis Browns to act as understudy for Dale Alexander, Detroit's regular first baseman.

The Holy Cross rookie who was the team's utility first sacker last season, will not be on the roster next year.

"Bucky" may make other deals. He declared that if necessary he would trade any of his players except Charley Gehring, second baseman.

Harris said his chief worry next spring would be selecting his three regular outfielders. Although "Bucky" did not say so, his picket line was not so good last season. The fielding of Stone, Funk and Johnson was below par. Stone batted .313 but the other two hit only .275.

Cartoonist in Outfield
Tom Hughes, a cartoonist from the University of Texas, played 17 games in the Tiger outfield at the close of the 1930 season and walked the ball for the neat average of .373. Other outfield candidates next spring will be Harvey and Gerald Walker, brothers from Evansville, and Shiver and Eckhardt from Beaumont. Eckhardt

Cougars Play Tulane Team Next Season

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 18.—(UP)—Washington State college, Pacific Coast conference football champion, will play the Tulane university December 5, 1931, at New Orleans, Earl Foster, graduate manager of Washington State, announced here today.

Foster said the addition of the strong Southern team completes a 10-game schedule for the 1931 Cougars.

Washington State, undefeated in its regular season this year, will meet Alabama university on New Year's Day at the Pasadena Tournament of Roses.

ORANGE HONORS CHAMPIONSHIP GRIDIRON TEAM

Coach Wallace Newman, of Whittier college was the principal speaker at a banquet given by the Girls' Athletic association of Orange union high school for the champion Orange football squad in the high school cafeteria at Orange last night. About 150 were present.

Newman declared that football is the only masculine game left as girls are now playing all the other athletic games. Clean playing was stressed in the short talk given by the coach as he named the requirements of a successful player.

Other speakers were Coach Stewart White of the Orange team who spoke on the "Ideals of Football." The Orange team has tried to represent the school and the fathers and mothers of the community, the coach said.

The election of Miss Carolyn Mueller as football queen was announced by Coach White. Miss Mueller, president of the Girls' Athletic association, acted as toastmaster and presented each member of the football team with a miniature silver football player to be used as a paper weight. Victor Well, trainer, and Eugene Lembo, manager, were presented with medals.

The team's gift to Coach White was a pair of binoculars and the presentation was made by Harold Peters, captain.

Announcement of the election of Captain Peters as the most valuable man to the team was made and Peters was awarded the Y. M. C. A. plaque which is given to the man gaining this coveted honor each year. J. B. Wilbur, Y. M. C. A. secretary, made a brief talk in presenting the plaque to the football player.

Other speakers were A. Haven Smith, principal; M. M. Fishback, assistant principal, and L. A. Evans, president of the school board.

In recognition of the services of David Fairbairn, who has assisted Coach white this year in training the team, Fairbairn was given a statue of a football player.

Three former team captains, Alvin Edwards, Erwin Krueger and Mike Santa Cruz, attended.

Other honor guests were two former presidents of the Girls' Athletic association, Miss Lenore Peters, '28, and Miss Ruth Brubaker, '29.

The program included dances by Miss Ruth Prentiss and Miss Iola Windolph and a pirate's dance by Miss Betty Garraway, Miss Emma Wetlin and Miss Martha Huscroft.

PACIFIC COAST ONLY DISTRICT WITH INCREASE

NEW YORK, Dec. 18.—(UP)—Football, as reflected in attendance figures, lost ground in 1930 as compared to 1929, according to a nation wide survey by the United Press.

Admission figures at 16 universities, representing every part of the country, indicated a definite falling off in patronage. The largest decreases occurred in the Middle West, with each of the six representative colleges of that section reporting drops in attendance.

The Pacific Coast, however, enjoyed increased attendance.

Attendance figures in the East were below those of 1929, while the South showed a slight gain.

The estimates of some of the colleges represent attendance at home games alone. For example, the Washington State attendance is listed at 32,000, but that is the number of persons who saw the two home games, and does not include the thousands who saw Washington State away from home.

Here are the 1930 and 1929 attendance figures:

College	1930	1929
Fordham	220,000	170,000
Pennsylvania	435,000	437,000
Harvard	534,294	430,189
Tennessee	106,523	95,000
Tulane	103,000	90,000
Illinois	124,089	176,337
Ohio State	158,000	196,000
Wisconsin	90,875	107,800
Nebraska	76,987	95,535
Missouri	125,000	137,000
Kansas	60,600	52,307
Washington	110,000	83,000
Washington State	32,000	20,000
Oregon State	70,000	45,000
Oregon	55,000	38,000
California	382,978	436,978

FANS RUSH TO BUY ROSE GAME DUCATS

More than half of Santa Ana's counter allotment of tickets for the Washington State-Alabama football game at Pasadena Rose Bowl New Year's Day have been disposed of. Robert L. Brown, proprietor of the Santa Ana Book store where the sale is being conducted, announced today.

This city was assigned a block of 100 and 65 of the tickets had been sold up two noon. They are for seats located between the 10 and 20 yard lines, Brown said.

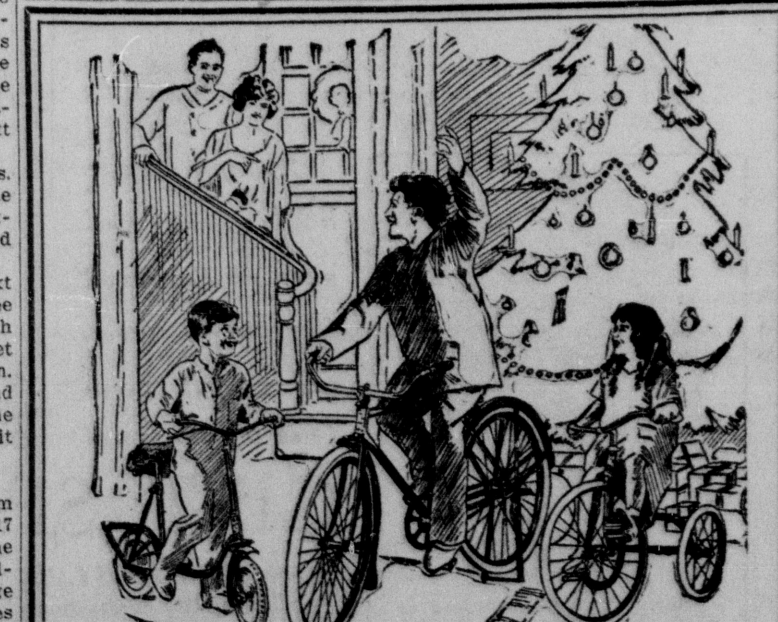

Greenleaf's Cue Crown In Danger

NEW YORK, Dec. 18.—(INS)—it was up to Ralph Greenleaf today as to whether Erwin Rudolph of Chicago will be the new world's pocket billiard champion tonight.

Rudolph is out in front with six wins in as many starts. He plays Greenleaf tonight. If he beats Ralph he has the title, as the present champion has one defeat in six starts and two setbacks will put him out of the running.

Peters, '28, and Miss Ruth Brubaker, '29.

The program included dances by Miss Ruth Prentiss and Miss Iola Windolph and a pirate's dance by Miss Betty Garraway, Miss Emma Wetlin and Miss Martha Huscroft.

500 Children Attend Newport Christmas Party

YULE PROGRAM IS ENJOYED AT BEACH SCHOOL

NEWPORT BEACH, Dec. 18.—Five hundred children of the Newport harbor district were made happy last night at a Christmas tree party given at the Newport beach grammar school by the school board, in co-operation with the Newport Harbor Chamber of Commerce.

A program of entertainment was provided by children of the school and students of the Newport and Balboa Sunday schools, as follows: Invocation by the Rev. R. C. Stroup; orchestral selection, "A Happy Day March," by the orchestra directed by A. L. Gilmore; trumpet solo, Gilman Brooks; Christmas medley by orchestra; Christmas carols by eighth grade chorus; operetta, "A Penny for Christmas," directed by Wilhelm Breuer, instructor of music, and with the following characters: Johnny Greencoat, Anton Suttora; Mike and Everything, John Vogel; Santa Claus, Paul Fisher. Vocal solos were given by Edna Walker, Joanne Griffin, John Vogel, Anton Suttora, Katherine Fisher, Gale Green and Ward Marshall. There were two chorus groups, one of Johnny Greencoat's friends and the other of Santa Claus helpers from the sixth, seventh and eighth grades.

A flute solo was given by Miss Peggy Crittenden; a Christmas tableau, "The Nativity," Christmas carols by young people in costumes, and a Christmas story by the Rev. R. C. Stroup.

CAPISTRANO CAFE UNDER NEW LEASE

SAN JUAN CAPISTRANO, Dec. 18.—The Mission cafe, for the past five years operated by Mr. and Mrs. Norman Botger, closed its doors yesterday. Mr. Botger has leased the cafe in the Capistrano hotel from Fred F. Stoffie.

In addition to securing a lease on this place of business, he also becomes local agent for the stage line operating through Capistrano.

Botger came to this locality seven years ago and was for a year connected with the Palms cafe. Later he went into business for himself, opening the Mission cafe. The ground location was leased from Ferrie P. Kelly and it is rumored that Botger's lease having expired, Kelly refused to renew it, as he expects to erect a modern store building on the property. When questioned regarding his plans, Kelly refused to affirm or deny the rumor.

Fred Stoffie, owner of the cafe leased by Botger, will devote his entire time to developing the 645 acre tract which, with Clarence Brown, he recently purchased. The land will be set out in orange and avocado groves, subdivided into small acreages and placed on the market at a later date.

GETTING PAST JUNIOR

By GLUYAS WILLIAMS

YOU GET HOME WITH A BUNDLE YOU DON'T WANT JUNIOR TO SEE, AND PEER IN TO MAKE SURE HE ISN'T IN THE HALL.

YOU ADVANCE CONFIDENTLY UNTIL A VOICE FROM THE STAIRWAY CALLS CHEERFULLY 'HELLO DADDY'.

YOU RETREAT HASTILY TRYING TO GATHER YOUR WITS.

PERCEIVING THAT JUNIOR IS SITTING ON THE STAIRS APPARENTLY INTENDING TO STAY, YOU SUGGEST HE GO UP AND FIND MOTHER.

JUNIOR REPORTS MOTHER ISN'T UPSTAIRS SHE IS IN THE KITCHEN, AND WHY DON'T YOU COME IN, ISN'T IT COLD OUT.

THIS REMINDS YOU THAT YOUR FINGERS AND ANKLES ARE GETTING NUMB AND YOU TELL JUNIOR RATHER SHARPLY TO GO FIND MOTHER IN THE KITCHEN.

JUNIOR ASKS WHY DO YOU WANT HIM TO, AND BESIDES MOTHER HAS TOLD HIM TO STAY OUT OF KITCHEN, AND WHAT'S BEHIND YOUR BACK.

YOU HASTILY CLOSE THE DOOR AND HURRY ROUND TO THE REAR DOOR WHERE JUNIOR WILL PROBABLY BE WAITING FOR YOU.

JOB CAMPAIGN GETS BACKING OF CITY BOARD

LA HABRA, Dec. 18.—Formation of a relief organization to assist in relieving the unemployment situation was the chief topic of discussion at the regular meeting of the La Habra city council Tuesday night.

Suggestions that the city get behind the movement to provide work for the unemployed were made by the city engineer, John Sanks.

Sanks pointed out that there were a number of wage earners in La Habra who have not been seriously affected by the depression who could give one day's wages each month toward the cause and many others who could provide and pay for a half day's labor each week or two. Together, the situation could be taken care of in La Habra, he stated.

A motion was carried that the city clerk urge all the organizations of the town co-operate with the city in the matter and appoint a representative to meet with John Sanks and Homer Randall, who were named as the committee from the council in organizing a campaign to secure both money and work for the unemployed.

A total of $50 was voted by the council to start the campaign and $25 from the chamber of commerce was assured by A. W. McBride.

H. A. Randall reported that at the present times six men were being given employment hauling persimmons to the hospitals and homes in Los Angeles. He stated that already 900 boxes of fruit had been given to these institutions.

I. L. Dole, president, gave out the results of the attendance and membership contest which is now completed. The contest was won by the Walter Wentz team, with Warren Wheeler's team second and Ernest Fulson's team the loser. The losing team will furnish a dinner for the members of the Lion's club.

Lions Told Of Trip To Russia

GARDEN GROVE, Dec. 18.—Harold Wahlberg, Orange county farm adviser, was the principal speaker at the Lions club luncheon Wednesday. He spoke on his recent travels through Russia.

I. L. Dole, president, gave out the results of the attendance and membership contest which is now completed. The contest was won by the Walter Wentz team, with Warren Wheeler's team second and Ernest Fulson's team the loser. The losing team will furnish a dinner for the members of the Lion's club.

Declare Dividend Of Eight Per Cent At Laguna Bank

GROWTH OF U. S. DISCUSSED AT MESA SESSION

COSTA MESA, Dec. 18.—Ray Adkinson, incoming county school superintendent, spoke on "The Growth of America" at the monthly meeting of the Costa Mesa Brotherhood held in the social hall of the Community church Tuesday evening.

The "Bill of Rights," in which the liberty of man was embodied, proclaiming freedom of speech, freedom of the press and religion, and establishing the sanctity of the home, was the forerunner of the constitution, Adkinson stated.

One hundred per cent in education was given as one remedy for the nation's ills. A nation's strength is as the individual's strength.

An interesting one-act play, entitled, "A Pair of Lunatics," was given by Mrs. Horace W. Leasing and Mr. Ralph Murrain, of Santa Ana, who are dramatic art pupils of Mrs. Albert Raymond, of Santa Ana.

The brotherhood male quartet sang "The Church in the Wilderness" and "Speed Away." Members of the quartet are F. A. Dale, H. B. McMurtrie, Lee Belting and Ed Bennett, with Mrs. A. F. Hasse as piano accompanist.

George Sherry, violinist, with Mrs. Hasse accompanying, played a group of Christmas hymns, with the entire audience singing.

E. A. Spaulding, the December program chairman, urged Costa Mesans to send in their remittances for the Christmas seals, stating also that 15 per cent of the money collected was used in Orange county, 10 per cent for the national work and 15 per cent for the state.

The dinner was in charge of section one of the Ladies Aid. Table and social hall decorations were in Christmas colors, red and green, with poinsettias and Christmas greens being used.

Those present at the dinner were Albert Dundek, brotherhood president; A. F. Hasse, Ray Adkinson, Mrs. Horace W. Leasing and Ralph Murrain, of Santa Ana; E. A. Spaulding, C. S. Hummel, J. B. Clegghorn, H. B. McMurtrie, L. Tucker, C. S. Sneve, Jean Willcutt, Lloyd Willcutt, F. E. Russell, Charles Tead, George Sherry, W. Rountree, E. Pickering, G. S. Brown, G. Pearce, M. Nelson, R. Hostettler, T. J. Reynolds, Charles Ogden, H. N. Miner, William Moores and E. C. Chaplin, of Corona Del Mar; Charles Kersel, J. Durkee Charles Seiber, C. N. Uirey, F. A. Daley and Ed Bennett.

Garden Grove Church To Give Program

GARDEN GROVE, Dec. 18.—A program will be presented by all departments of the Baptist Sunday school in the church Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock.

WESTMINSTER IN PLANS FOR YULE EVENTS

WESTMINSTER, Dec. 18.—Plans for the community Christmas tree for Westminster are going forward for next Monday evening under the supervision of the committee recently appointed by the local chamber of commerce and which is composed of James M. Monroe, Clyde Day, George Clough, Raymond Burns, A. G. Snow, Joe Edward and Dr. Russell L. Johnson.

The program is to be held on the Westminster school grounds. There will be treats for children of sacks of candy, nuts, apples and oranges. Community singing will be led by Mrs. Anna Campbell and other interesting musical features will be on the program which will include talks by the Rev. Cyril Carter, pastor of the local Presbyterian church and by the Rev. Jiminez, pastor of the local Mexican Methodist church.

The Christmas program for the Westminster Presbyterian church is scheduled for next Tuesday evening, and each class of the Sunday school is contributing toward the program. The program will be at 7:30 o'clock.

On Sunday evening the Christian Endeavor will present at the church the pageant "Bethlehem," and rehearsals are being held each evening this week by the young people, who are being supervised by Mrs. T. E. Turpin.

The special feature for the opening hour of the Junior Sunday school department on next Sunday morning will be presented by Mrs. M. J. Hill's class of eighth grade girls.

In the school each room is planning separate programs and each room has a beautifully decorated tree and other decorations making the class rooms gay for the holiday season.

USE OF COUNTY FUNDS TOLD IN ROTARY SPEECH

FULLERTON, Dec. 18.—Use of Orange county funds was explained to members of the Fullerton Rotary club at noon yesterday in McFarland's cafe by William Schumacher, supervisor from the third district, who used charts which showed that the cost of government in the county has increased to a greater per cent since 1915 than the percentage of increase in population.

The charts used by Schumacher showed that while the population since 1915 had increased 134 per cent, the assessed valuation had increased from $18,234,675 to $179,460,000 in 1930.

The increase in the cost of the county government has been occasioned by an increase in county business out of direct proportion to the population growth, Schumacher said. This has been the case especially with the county auditor's office, which has added to its former duties the regulating of a large number of assessments, improvement, cemetery, lighting, sanitary and other districts requiring a large amount of work, he said.

That there is approximately $70,000 balance in the road fund, which is the largest of any of the county districts at this time, was pointed out by Schumacher, who said that plans for extensive improvements and aid to cities in improvements of main highways within the corporate limits of the municipalities are being made.

Members of the club brought gifts to donate to the City Nurse association in its work among the needy. Howard Irwin and Rich Volk failed to bring gifts and were forced to donate clothes which they were wearing.

Miss Doris Redfern, junior college student, sang two numbers, accompanied by Benjamin Edwards.

SAN CLEMENTE WILL PRESENT GIFTS DEC. 24

SAN CLEMENTE, Dec. 18.—There will be presents for every child in San Clemente when Santa Claus visits the Social club Christmas eve as a guest of the Men's club. Money for the presents was secured at the club's third annual Days of '49 party. Trafford Huteson, chairman of the party committee, and A. L. Schneberger, auditor, announced last night that $745.75 had been made.

L. B. Brown, chairman of the Christmas party, announced at the Men's club this week that he and his committee had made arrangements for Santa Claus' presence next Wednesday evening, that $200 had been spent for presents and candy and that a good time was assured for all Spanish village children. Santa Claus will visit the club at 7:30 o'clock and will be assisted by G. W. Stearns, Bill Hanson, Bert Latham and A. N. Cohee in distributing gifts.

Club members voted to donate $10 of the Days of '49 party fund to the Christmas seal fund. This money will be turned over to Mrs. George Ferguson, chairman of the drive here, as part of the Spanish village's contribution to the drive.

Spanish Village Ready for Depot Event On Dec. 27

SAN CLEMENTE, Dec. 18.—Plans for the special train which will leave San Clemente at 9:30 o'clock December 27 for Agua Caliente have been completed. The celebration will be in observance of the laying of the cornerstone of the new Spanish village depot. Ole Hanson, founder and builder, will lay the cornerstones. The ceremony will take place on the spot where the new Spanish type depot will be erected, between the Santa Fe tracks and the Beach club. Mayor Murphine and railroad officials will take part in the celebration. Then all will board the train and set off for Agua Caliente. The train will leave for San Clemente at 6 o'clock at night. At the track it will be San Clemente day and horses from the Ole Hanson and La Brea stables will race, according to present plans.

Dances Slated At Spanish Village

SAN CLEMENTE, Dec. 18.—San Clemente will stage a party New Year's eve at the Social club. The Men's club will hold a dance at the club on that evening. There will be favors, refreshments, ornamental hats and noise makers. Another party is scheduled for the same evening at the Golf club, where the 50-50 club will hold its formal New Year's dance. A. L. Schneberger is chairman of the Men's club affair.

The Scarab Murder Case

A PHILO VANCE STORY BY S. S. VAN DINE

CHAPTER XII

The Tin of Opium
(Friday, July 13; 3:15 p. m.)
A few minutes later Brush served tea and toast.
"It is cooling tea, sir—Taiwan," he explained proudly to Vance. "And I did not butter the toast."
"You have rare intuition, Brush," Vance spoke appreciatively. "And what of Mrs. Bliss and Mr. Salveter? They have had no lunch."
"I took tea to them a little while ago. They did not wish anything else."
"And Doctor Bliss?"
"He has not rung for me, sir. But then, he often goes without lunch."
Ten minutes later Vance called Brush in from the kitchen.
"Suppose you fetch Hani." The butler's eyelids fluttered. "Yes, sir." He bowed stiffly and departed.
"There are one or two matters," Vance explained to Markham, "that we should clear up at once; and Hani may be able to enlighten us. The actual murder of Kyle is the least devilish thing about this plot. I'm counting extravagantly on what we'll learn from Salveter and Mrs. Bliss—which is why, if you see, I want to accumulate beforehand as much ammunition as possible."
"Still and all," put in Heath, "a guy was bumped off, and if I could put my hands on the bird who did it I wouldn't lay awake nights worrying about plots."

"You're so dashed pristine, Sergeant," Vance sipped his tea dolefully. "Findin' the murderer is simple. But even if you had him gyved, it wouldn't do you a title of good. He'd have you apologizin' to him within forty-eight hours."
"The hell he would!" snapped Heath. "Slip me the baby that croaked Kyle, and I'll show you some inside stuff that don't get in to the newspapers."
"If you were to arrest the murderer now," Vance returned mildly, "both of you would get into the newspapers—and the stories would all go against you. I'm savin' you from your own impetuosity."
Heath snorted, but Markham looked at Vance seriously.
"I'm beginnin' to fall in with your views," he said. "The elements in this case are damnably confused." At this moment soft, measured footsteps sounded in the hall, and Hani appeared at the door. He was calm and aloof as usual, and his immobile face registered not the least surprise at our being in possession of the breakfast-room.
"Come in and sit down, Hani," Vance's invitation was almost too pleasant.
The Egyptian moved slowly toward us, but he did not take a seat.
"I prefer to stand, effendi!"
"It's of course more comfortin' to stand in moments of stress," Vance commented.
Hani inclined his head slightly, but made no answer. His poise, typically oriental, was colossal.

"Mr. Scarlett tells us," Vance began, without looking up, "that Mrs. Bliss has been well provided for in Mr. Kyle's will. This information, Mr. Scarlett said, came from you."

"Is it not natural," asked Hani, in a quiet voice, "that Mr. Kyle should have provided for his god-child?"

"He told you he had done so?"

"Yes. He always confided in me, for he knew I loved Meryt-Amen like a father."

"When did he give you his confidence?"

"Years ago—in Egypt."

"Who else, Hani, knew of this bequest?"

"I think every one knew of it. He told me in the presence of Doctor Bliss. And naturally I told Meryt-Amen."

"Did Mr. Salveter know about it?"

"I told him myself." There was a curious note in Hani's voice, which I could not understand at the time.

"And you also told Mr. Scarlett?"

Vance raised his eyes and studied the Egyptian impersonally. "You're not what I'd call the ideal repository for a secret."

"I did not consider the matter a secret," Hani returned.

"Obviously not," Vance rose and walked languidly to the samovar. "Do you happen to know if Mr. Salveter was also to be an object of Mr. Kyle's benefactions?"

"I could not say with assurance."

Hani's eyes rested dreamily on the opposite wall. "But from certain remarks dropped by Mr. Kyle, I gathered that Mr. Salveter was also well provided for in the will."

"You like Mr. Salveter—eh, what, Hani?" Vance lifted the top of the samovar and peered into its interior.

"He is, I have reason to think, an admirable young man."

"Oh, quite," Vance smiled faintly, and replaced the samovar's lid. "And he is much nearer Mrs. Bliss's age than Doctor Bliss."

Hani's eyes flickered, and it seemed to me that he gave a slight start. It was a momentary reaction, however. Slowly he folded his arms, and stood like a sphinx, silent and detached.

"Mrs. Bliss and Mr. Salveter will both be rich, now that Mr. Kyle is dead," Vance spoke casually without glancing toward the Egyptian. After a pause he asked: "But what of Doctor Bliss's excavations?"

"They are probably at an end, effendi!"

"Despite Hani's monotonous tone there was a discernible note of triumphal satisfaction in his words. "Why should the sacred resting-places of our noble Pharaohs be ravaged?"

"I'm sure I don't know," Vance said blandly. "The art unearthed is scarcely worth considerin'. The only true art of antiquity is Chinese; and all modern aesthetic beauty stems from the Greeks. But this isn't an appropriate time to discuss the creative instinct. Speakin' of the doctor's researches, isn't it possible that Mrs. Bliss will continue to finance her husband's work?"

A black cloud fell across Hani's face.

"It's possible. Meryt-Amen is a loyal wife. And no one can tell what a woman will do."

"So I've been told—by those unversed in feminine psychology." Vance's manner was light and almost flippant. "Still, even should Mrs. Bliss decline to assist in the continuance of the work, Mr. Salveter—with his fanatical enthusiasm for Egyptology—might be persuaded to act as the doctor's financial angel."

"Not if it offended Meryt-Amen," began Hani, and then stopped abruptly.

Vance appeared not to notice the sudden break in the other's response.

"You would, I suppose," he remarked, "attempt to influence Mrs. Bliss against helping her husband complete his excavations."

"Oh, no, effendi," Hani shook his head. "I would not presume to advise her. She knows her own mind—and her loyalty to Doctor Bliss would dictate her decision, whatever I might say."

"Ah, tell me, Hani, who do you consider was most benefited by the death of Mr. Kyle?"

"The ka of Intef."

Vance raised his eyes and gave an exasperated smile.

"Ah, yes—of course. Most helpful," he murmured.

"For that reason," Hani continued, a visionary look on his face, "the spirit of Sakmet returned to the museum this morning and struck down the desecrator."

"And," interjected Vance, "put the financial report in the doctor's scarab pin beside the body, and made bloody footprints leading to the study. Not very fair-minded, your lady of vengeance—in fact, a rather bad sport, don't you know, tryin' to get some one else punished for her little flutter in crime." He studied the Egyptian closely through narrowed eyes; then he leaned forward over the end of the table.

When he spoke again his voice was severe and resonant. "You're trying to shield some one, Hani! Who is it?"

The other took a deep breath, and the pupils of his eyes dilated.

"I have told you all I know, effendi." His voice was scarcely audible. "I believe that Sakmet—"

"Rubbish!" Vance cut him short. Then he shrugged his shoulders and grinned. "Jawab ul ahmag sakmet."

A shrewd gleam came into Hani's eyes, and I thought I detected a sneer on his mouth.

Vance was in no wise disconcerted, however. Somehow I felt that, despite the Egyptian's evasiveness, he had learned what he wanted. After a brief pause he tapped the samovar.

"Leaving mythology to one side," he said complacently, "I understand that Mrs. Bliss sent Brush to you this morning with a cup of coffee."

Hani merely nodded.

"What, by the by, was the nature of your illness?" Vance asked.

"Since coming to this country," the man returned, "I have suffered from indigestion. When I awoke this morning—"

"Most unfortunate," Vance murmured sympathetically. "And did you find that the one cup of coffee was sufficient for your needs?"

Hani obviously resented the question, but there was no indication of his feeling in his answer.

"Yes, effendi. I was hungry..."

"Indeed! I was rather under the impression you came down-stairs and drew yourself a second cup from this percolator."

Once more a cautious expression came over Hani's face, and he hesitated perceptibly before answering. "A second cup?" he repeated.

"Here in the breakfast-room? ... I was not aware of the fact."

"It doesn't matter in the least," Vance returned. "Some one was alone with the percolator this morning. And whoever it was—that is to say, whoever might have been alone with it—was involved in the plot of Mr. Kyle's death."

"How could that be, effendi?" Hani, for the first time, appeared vitally worried.

Vance did not answer his query. He was leaning over the table, looking critically at the inlay.

"Dingle said she thought she heard some one in here after Mrs. Bliss and Mr. Salveter had gone upstairs after breakfast and it occurred to me it might have been you." He glanced up sharply. "It's possible, of course, that Mrs. Bliss returned for another cup of coffee—or even Mr. Salveter."

"It was I who was here!" Hani spoke with slow and impressive emphasis. "I came down-stairs almost immediately after Meryt-Amen had returned to her room. I drew myself another cup of coffee, and at once went back up-stairs. It was I whom Dingle heard. I lied to you a moment ago because I had already told you, in the museum, that I had remained in my room all the morning—my trip to the breakfast-room had slipped my mind. I did not regard the matter as of any importance."

"Well, well! That explains everything," Vance smiled musingly. "And now that you have recalled your little pilgrimage for coffee, will you tell us who in the house possesses powdered opium?"

I was watching Hani, and I expected to see him show some sign of fear at Vance's question. But only an expression of profound puzzlement came over his stolid features. A full half minute passed before he spoke.

"At last I comprehend why you have questioned me concerning the coffee," he said. "But you are being cleverly deceived."

"Fancy that!" Vance stifled a yawn.

"Bliss effendi was not put to sleep this morning," the Egyptian continued; and, despite the oracular monotone of his voice, there was an undercurrent of hatred beneath his words.

"Really, now! And who said he had been put to sleep, Hani?"

"Your interest in the coffee... your question regarding the opium... His voice trailed off."

"Well?"

"I have no more to say."

"Opium," Vance informed him, "was found in the bottom of the doctor's coffee cup."

Hani appeared genuinely startled by this news.

"You are sure, effendi?... I cannot understand."

MIDWAY CITY

MIDWAY CITY, Dec. 18.—Mrs. H. M. Miller of San Marina has come to Midway City to spend the winter in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bert M. Gorrell and will assist Mr. and Mrs. Gorrell in the Midway City post-office.

Fred French returned Sunday from the north, where he motored to bring to their home for a few days' visit, Mrs. French, who has been employed in the orange packing houses for several weeks. Mrs. French returned north Wednesday for the final three weeks run of the orange season in that district.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Arnett and family were Sunday visitors in Winchester, where they visited their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Verne Hodge, and upon their return were accompanied by their young grandson, who is their guest this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Mansperger visited Sunday in Garden Grove with Mr. and Mrs. Dick Haster and their young daughter. The evening was spent by Mr. and Mrs. Mansperger at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Falcke.

Announce New Breakfast Club Leaders At Xmas Party

MISSION PLAY QUARTET SINGS AT GATHERING

Activities of the Santa Ana Breakfast club for the year 1930 came to a close today in a blaze of glory with one of the finest and most comprehensive programs the club has ever enjoyed. Announcement of the election of officers for the ensuing year was made at the meeting today by B. Z. McKinney, retiring president. The officers are: President, Dr. E. L. Kilbourne; first vice president, the Rev. Harry E. Owings; second vice president, Dave Wetlin; secretary-treasurer, Fred Schweitzer. The entertainment program today, which was under the direction of George Boyd and Norman Sprowl, included music, dancing, comedy and magic. The principal event of the morning, so far as the children present were concerned, was the appearance of old man Santa Claus, who had a gift for every child and woman present at the affair. The attendance at the annual Christmas party of the club filled the blue room at Ketter's cafe.

Music from the California quartet, composed of the premier singers of the Mission play, was appreciated by the members and guests of the club. These musicians, including Irmalee Campbell, soprano; Beatrice Baguer, contralto; Charles King, tenor; and Berry Gill, baritone, opened their program with "The Blue Danube Waltz." Their other numbers as a quartet were "The Bells of St. Mary's" and "Funiculi, Funicula." Miss Campbell sang as a solo, "Estrellita" and was joined by King for a duet number, "Lilac Time." King, who was the soloist at the recent Cantando club concert here, sang two solos for the club, the aria from "Pagliacci" and "Unchained."

Other numbers included a medley of Christmas carols on the piano by Olive Schweitzer, eight-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schweitzer; two tap dances by Evelyn Vee Gaylord, and a comedy team act that created a great deal of mirth, provided by the "rube" entertainers, Seymour and Cornpot. Part of their apparatus attracted much attention and was very novel as a one-man jazz band.

Another number that was particularly entertaining was presented by "Mystic" Clayton, a resident of La Habra and a world traveler, magician and mystic.

During the morning a gift of appreciation of the services and work during the year of the retiring president, B. Z. McKinney, consisting of a bronze and marble desk set, was presented by Fred Forgy on behalf of the club. A resolution of thanks and a money gift were also extended to the club secretary, Fred Schweitzer.

The program committee for 1931, which will have general charge of all arrangements for meetings during the year, was announced today following the announcement of the new officers as selected by the board of directors. It is composed of Ed. Cochems and Gene Kahen. The next meeting of the club will be on January 8.

VETERANS PLAN TO ENTERTAIN AT TREE PARTY

On Saturday night the members and auxiliary of the Jack Fisher chapter, Disabled American Veterans of the World war, will combine their efforts in staging one of the special events on the entire D. A. V. calendar at this season of the year.

As in years past this will be a Christmas tree party planned entirely for the enjoyment of the children of all disabled veterans of Orange county. These children now look forward to this gathering with eager anticipation for each committee seems to outdo the previous year's achievements in entertaining these children.

The officials in charge have not divulged the name of the party who will play the role of Santa Claus. However, a guarantee that this part of the program will be in capable hands has been made. Santa's entrance is timed for 7 o'clock promptly and from then on the spirit of youth will hold sway. Toys, candies, nuts, etc., will be given to each child and their enjoyment will be the keynote of the success of this party.

The entertainment will be in charge of Miss Claire Cotant, who will feature juvenile members of her academy.

CHRISTMAS TIME IN CHINA TOPIC

COSTA MESA, Dec. 18.—The Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary society held its December meeting Tuesday in the social hall of the Community church, with Mrs. Grow S. Brown as speaker. Mrs. Brown gave an interesting description of Christmas in China. Mr. and Mrs. Brown were missionaries to China for many years.

Mrs. Ralph Williams had charge of the study book lesson, "A Cloud of Witnesses." Mrs. E. A. Randall was in charge of the devotionals. Mary Ann Daley gave a Christmas reading.

Is Informed Of Sister's Death

J. A. Gardiner, 505 South Broadway, attorney, received a telegram today informing him of the death of his eldest sister, Mrs. Martha A. Yatt, at Urbana, Ill., an hour after she was run down by an automobile. She was about 70 years of age.

The telegram was sent by her son, Prof. William W. Yatt, a member of the faculty of the state university at Urbana. Gardiner is awaiting receipt of complete details regarding the accident to his sister.

Vacation Time Arrives For Children

Thousands of Santa Ana and Orange county children and hundreds of teachers were released from school room routine at the close of school last night for the annual Christmas vacation. The holiday period this year to be observed by Santa Ana schools and practically every school in the county, runs over to Monday, January 5.

WILL PROVIDE CHRISTMAS FOR NEEDY KIDDIES

A Christmas that is distinctly different from that enjoyed by the majority of Santa Ana children, is to fall to the lot of three or four little people, according to a story which the Rev. W. H. McPeak today was relating to a few of his friends.

The Rev. Mr. McPeak, in his capacity as pastor of the United Presbyterian church, is called upon to settle many problems for his parishioners, but a new and different one presented itself to him a few days ago, when he was called to the telephone by a young married man of his acquaintance. The man and his girl-wife have no children of their own for whom to plan a celebration, so they enlisted the kindly offices of the pastor to look for them, three or four little people from 4 to 10 years of age, whose Christmas promised no cheer and brightness unless it came from some unforeseen source.

These little folks will be taken to Camp Baldy to enjoy several days including Christmas day itself, amidst the winter joys of that lovely spot, where the young people have a cabin. The Rev. Mr. McPeak declared that this was the first time in his ministerial career that such a request had come to him, and he was deeply impressed with the thoughtful generosity that prompted the plan, quoting Ella Wheeler Wilcox's famous quatrain: "So many gods, so many creeds, So many paths that wind and wind, When just the art of being kind Is all this old world needs."

Mary E. McDowell Called By Death

Mrs. Mary E. McDowell, wife of John C. McDowell, died at El Monte yesterday, according to information received here today. Mrs. McDowell formerly resided here and had been a resident of Orange county for almost 62 years. She was 70 years of age at the time of her death. Short services will be held at the Santa Ana cemetery on Friday at 1 p.m.

WILL INSTALL OFFICERS OF REALTY BOARD

The annual banquet and installation of officers of the Santa Ana Realty board will be held at the Santa Ana country club tonight, to be followed by a dance and cards. Wives and other feminine guests of the board members are to be in attendance at this affair.

Prominent visitors who will attend the function include D. D. Watson, of Brentwood, state president of the real estate men's association, who will be the guest of honor and principal speaker at the dinner; Glenn Willaman, of Los Angeles, state secretary; and Steven Barnson, state real estate commissioner. Barnson will give the new officers of the Santa Ana board their oaths of office. The retiring president, Herbert Allemen, will act as toastmaster at the affair.

Officers who are to direct the work of the board during the next year are Frank McCarter, president; W. F. Croddy, secretary; M. J. Oleson, treasurer; John Knox, W. B. Martin and W. L. Salisbury, vice presidents; Asa Hoffman, Carl Mock, Charles Aubrey, Leon Lauderbach and Herbert Allemen, directors.

There will be no meeting of the board at Ketter's cafe Friday, the next regular meeting being on December 26.

Court Notes

Dr. Garnet B. Grant, of San Clemente, is plaintiff in an action that has been filed in superior court against Dorothy Justin, in which he seeks judgment of $350 for professional services.

A suit seeking a decree of quiet title has been filed by Frank Musselman against E. Gonzalez, et al., concerning property in Santa Ana.

Action on a promissory note has been brought by the Orange Mortgage company against C. J. and Beale M. Bliss. Judgment is asked for $1300.

Roy Rios, San Juan Capistrano man, charged with issuing a bank check with intent to defraud, was held to answer to the superior court at the conclusion of his preliminary examination in Justice Kenneth Morrison's court. He is alleged to have passed a "cold" check at the J. C. Penney Co. store in Santa Ana on November 22. The check was said to have been for $25.

Time for the hearing of the case of Forrest Leake, Garden Grove man, charged with forgery of a $24 check on the First National bank, was set for December 22, in Justice Kenneth Morrison's court yesterday. Bail of $2000 was demanded, which the defendant did not make. A. P. Trawick is the complaining witness.

REDUCTION OF POWER RATES IS ANNOUNCED

A voluntary rate reduction which will save the consumers of the Southern California Edison Company Ltd. $775,000 a year has been announced by R. H. Ballard, president. The request for this reduction, which will become effective May 1, was approved by the railroad commission December 17.

The proposed rate reductions apply to industrial and agricultural consumers of electric energy throughout the entire Southern California Edison company Ltd. system in southern and central California according to Mr. Ballard. The number of agricultural consumers who will benefit from the new reduction is 15,484. A total of 18,041 industrial consumers will share in the benefits of the reduction.

This rate reduction will constitute the company's third major voluntary reduction since 1927 and the eighth of a series of voluntary reductions inaugurated in 1920, according to Ballard. The last voluntary reduction, which became effective November 1, 1929, lowered lighting rates for the company's consumers, effecting a saving of approximately $1,400,000 a year. The number of consumers benefiting from this reduction was 427,000.

"In proposing to the commission this plan for reduction of industrial and agricultural service rates, the Southern California Edison company Ltd. is conforming to its announced policy of passing on to consumers, in the form of rate reductions, the benefits of economies in company operations."

"Our budget for 1931 calls for an expenditure of $28,000,000, which indicates our faith in the development of business during the coming twelve months," said Ballard. This calls for $8,000,000 in expenditures over and above normal for the year. This sum was placed in the budget in order to insure steady employment to our more than 5100 regular employees throughout the year.

"Lowered rates have resulted in increased consumption of electric energy in our company's territory and our program of expansion of service for 1931 contemplates the addition of 350,000 horsepower of new business from present consumers and approximately 27,000 new consumers who we expect to apply for service. A major portion of this anticipated total of new business will develop in the industrial and agricultural fields."

Justice Kenneth Morrison's court yesterday. Bail of $2000 was demanded, which the defendant did not make. A. P. Trawick is the complaining witness.

ENDORSE CHRISTMAS SEAL SALE

In recognition of the splendid work being done by the Orange County Tuberculosis association in building and training under-par children at the health camp in Santiago canyon, in the conduct of the early diagnosis campaign, and other health promoting activities of the association, The mayor and city council of Santa Ana hereby endorse the Christmas seal sale and urge the citizens of Santa Ana to give their generous support to the seal sale as one of the finest contributions towards promoting the health and happiness of future citizens in our community.

THE ANTITES

STORY 4 BY NAL COCHRAN - PICTURES BY NICK
REG. U. S. PAT. OFF.

Wee Scouty shouted loudly, "Gee, that man's a scout, lads, just like me. At least he's going to scout around for Clowdy Tiny-mite. I know he has a lot of pluck. I hope he also has good luck. A-riding on his camel, he will soon be out of sight."

The native told the Travel Man, "I'll do the very best I can to find the little lost lad. He cannot be far away. My camel travels sure, but slow, so out upon the sand we'll go. If I meet with success I may be back within a day."

"Good luck! Good luck!" the Tinies cried. And then they watched the kind men ride away from them. The Travel Man then said, "We may as well rest up, 'cause here we'll stay until he brings back Clowdy. I feel sure that's what he'll do."

Just then they heard a noise nearby and Coppy shouted, "Me, oh my! I see a great big ostrich. It is racing round and round. I wonder just how soon 'twill stop. It better, or I know 'twill flop. An ostrich makes just wondrous speed when racing o'er the ground."

"Let's try and ride him," Scouty cried. "You catch him and I'll take the ride." The Travel Man thought this would be an awful lot of fun. So he helped catch the frightened bird, and shouted, "When I say the word, hop on his broad back, Scouty." 'Twas no sooner said than done.

And then they let the bird run free. It was as jumpy as could be, but Scouty was a real game lad. He hung on good and tight. The bird soon figured all was well and then it ran around pell mell, but didn't try to throw the lad. The ride turned out all right.

Missing Letter Links

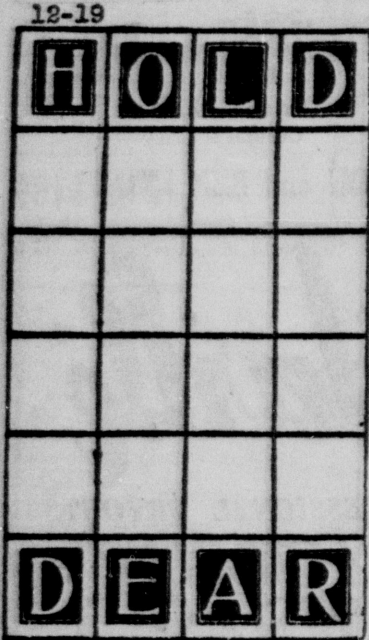

RULES

1. In playing golf on the Missing Letter Links the object is to change one word to another in a given number of strokes which is par. For example, to go from TEE to PIN in three strokes sounds hard but isn't: TEE, TIE, PIE, PIN. It's probably more difficult on a real course.

2. Change but one letter at a time and be sure the word you have used is one in good usage.

3. The order of the letters cannot be changed.

NEED FOR JOBS STILL URGENT IN SANTA ANA

Announcing that there has not been the response that was anticipated to the appeal for odd jobs for the unemployed, R. R. Miller, community chest executive who is in charge of the city free employment bureau, today stated that those concerned with the matter felt possibly there had been some hesitancy on the part of citizens of the community in providing work of this nature due to a feeling that the employees might come under the provisions of the state workmen's compensation act.

"Casual labor of this kind, where the work to be done is completed in 10 working days and the total labor cost does not exceed $100 does not come under terms of the act," he said, and advised that a legal opinion on the matter had been secured from Fred Forgy.

The law is as follows: "Statutes 1917, page 881, as amended, an act known as workmen's compensation act, section 8 C-Casual-relates to employment where the work contemplated is to be completed in not exceeding 10 working days without regard to the number of men employed and where the total labor cost of such work is less than $100."

"Any labor situation not covered by the compensation act comes under the provisions of law in the relation known as master and servant," Miller said. "Here there is a claim on the employer only where there is provable negligence on the part of the employer, such as having a man do work that seemed to be safe, but that the employer knew was not safe."

There are 450 persons registered at the bureau now and there is a desperate need for any employment that can be developed, he said.

at college. Warburton should make a great quarter-mile in track, however. He has plenty of speed, stamina and courage.

Lack of size and strength will be a severe handicap, too, to Russ Sweet, diminutive Long Beach captain. Sweet says he will not attempt to play football at college but the fever usually gets 'em all, big or small.

The best bets at San Diego are Innesmen-Moore and Burchard, tackles, and King Hall, 210-pound guard who has another year in high school. Hall is a brother of Bob Hall, the Trojan tackle. San Diego State hopes to keep Moore and Burchard at home.

Fullerton produced only one athlete of major consequence, Joe Darracq, giant center. Darracq would help any college team. In his case it probably will be Fullerton Jaycee.

Orange came up with three high class backs this year, all growing boys who will be of sizeable bulk in a couple of years. Welty, best of the trio, has another year in prep school. Peters and Todd may come to Santa Ana junior college, although Peters is said to have Trojan aspirations and Todd to be Stanford-minded.

Johnny Arramide, a 180-pounder, was the best back Whittier has turned out since Lowry McCallen.

who later became a wonderful U. S. C. end.

Tustin's best contribution next year will be "Hen" Thier, an adept basketball and baseball player. Santa Ana Jaycees hopes to coax him into its athletic fold. The Jaycees also are casting covetous eyes on Little Joe Crafts, a sweet football player.

'RESCUE TWINS' OF LINERS PROMOTED

NEW YORK, Dec. 18.—(UP)—The "rescue twins" of the United States Lines—Capt. George Fried and Capt. Albert B. Randall—have been promoted to more important commands.

Captain Randall, who has four daring rescues at sea to his credit, has been given command of the Leviathan, the world's largest ship, and Captain Fried has been named his successor as master of the George Washington. Fried is known for his rescues of the crews of the British freighter Antiope and the Italian freighter Florida. Randall also became commander of the U. S. liner fleet as a result of the resignation of Commodore Harold A. Cunningham, as master of the Leviathan.

coached a football team in Texas this fall.

In addition to a cartoonist, a brother act and a football coach, the Tigers will have a former wrestler and a college professor at training camp. Charles Marrow, pitching recruit from Beaumont, was a wrestler at Davidson college. Hugh Wise, aptly named, is a professor at Purdue and, what is more important to Harris, a fair catcher.

"We will have a good pitching staff in Hoyt, Whitehill, Uhler, Sorrell, Wyatt and Bridges," continued Harris. "Grabowski, formerly of the Yankees and St. Paul, will help the bat. Alexander will be at first, Gehring second, McManus third and Koenig, Akers or Owen, a rookie from Seattle, at short."

"The club finished sixth in 1929 and fifth last season. Next year we ought to land in the first division."

L. A. PRODUCE

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 18.—(UP)—Trading continued sluggish with little change in prices on the Los Angeles fruit and produce market today.

Avocados moved fairly well, loose Fuertes jobbing at 22-25c per lb. with a few at 25c and Pucubias 18-20c.

Local cabbage was 50-55c a crate. Local cauliflower moved at 50-55c a crate, with a few best at 75-80c. Good cabbages from the Imperial valley were $1.75-$2.00 a lug. Couchella valley eggplant moved slowly at 5-8c per lb. Grapes from the San Joaquin valley were very dull and weak. Empress jobbing at 1-1 1/2c per lb. with a few at 1 1/4c and Malagas at 1 1/2-1 3/4c with some good stock out of cold storage at 2c and dull, fancy Imperial valley stock jobbing at $2.75-$3.00, with locally packed grapefruit at $2.00-$2.25.

Local lettuce from the San Fernando valley was $2.00-$2.25 a crate with a few at $2.50. Some very good dry pack lettuce from Santa Maria and San Diego county jobbed at $2.00-$2.25, mostly $2.00 a crate. San Fernando dry pack brought 75c-$1.25.

Loose choice and standard oranges from Tulare county were $1.75 a box on good large stock down to $1.00 on small fruit.

Local California Wonder peppers were firmly held at 75-90c a lug, with a few at $1.00, and small peppers 50-60c.

Italian squash from San Diego county brought 75-85c a lug, with white summer at $1.50-$1.75 and a few best at $2.00. Valley tangerines were dull at 5-6c per lb. Tomatoes ranged in price from $2.00-$2.25 a lug for the best exes down to a dollar or less on chilled stock and small sizes.

NEW YORK BONDS

NEW YORK, Dec. 18.—(UP)—Leading securities and convertible issues in all sections of the bond market participated in a complete reversal of recent form today and scored substantial gains on the strength of greatly improved sentiment in speculative quarters.

Second grade railroad bonds displayed their ability to advance and gains to more than a point were scored by Chicago and Eastern Illinois 5s, Erie 5s of 1937 and 1975, Missouri Pacific 5 1/2s, St. Louis-S.F. 4s, St. Louis Southwestern 5s and Wabash 5s. Bonds of the Allegheny Corporation advanced fractionally.

Domestic traction securities showed market strength, with bonds of the Interborough Rapid Transit company and Manhattan railways in demand at substantially higher prices.

In the European section of the foreign department, Rome 5 1/2s spurted 2 1/2 points, Milan 5 1/2s, 1 1/2, while German Annuity 5 1/2s advanced 1 1/2. Peru 8s featured the Latin-American list with a gain of more than 3 points.

United States government issues were again in demand at small gains. Other sections of the general list were marked by a generally firmer trend, with convertible bonds showing strength in sympathy with respective shares. Warner Brothers convertibles 8s rallied nearly 4 points. Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron convertibles 8s spurted 2 points, while American Telephone 4 1/2s gained more than a point.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE

NEW YORK, Dec. 18.—(UP)—Foreign exchange closed higher.

England 4.85 1-32, up .001 1-32. Canada 95.84 1/4, up .0001 1/4. France 93.92 1/4, up .0001 1/4. Italy 95.82 1-16, off .0001 1/4. Belgium 129.6 1/4, up .0001 1/4. Germany 23.84 1/4, up .0001 1/4. Czechoslovakia 10.09 1/4, up .0001 1/4. Switzerland 140.04, up .0001 1/4. Holland 40.26 1/4, up .0001 1/4. Spain 107.

Japan 4.952.

Royal Neighbors

Having elected new officers for the ensuing year at the latest meeting, the Royal Neighbors of America will install in the near future.

Mrs. Elva Crawford, orator; Mrs. Nettie Smith, vice orator; Mrs. Clara Blackwell, past orator; Mrs. Clara Breeding, chancellor; Mrs. Margaret Crawford, receiver; and Mrs. Laura Dunlap, recorder.

Neighbor Flora Dolbe was welcomed back after an absence of nearly a year and Mrs. Jessie Craig was reported as much improved from a serious X-ray burn and able to see friends at her home. The transfer card of Mrs. Leonard Farmer was received into the local order.

It was decided that instead of molding the usual gift exchange party at the regular meeting on December 22, the members would bring donations of groceries which will be turned over to the Salvation Army for distribution among the needy of Santa Ana for Christmas. Gifts for the children of the lodge will be given out and a program has been planned with the children in charge. Business will be dispensed with and the program will start at 7:30 p. m.

CHURCH SOCIETIES

Presbyterian Aid
Characterized by a good attendance of members was the meeting of the Ladies' Aid of the First Presbyterian church held Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. J. H. Nicolson read devotionals, and the program was presented by Mrs. J. W. Hancock.

Numbers by the Aeolian choir were special features of the day and were given under the direction of Miss Ruth Armstrong. Mrs. Dietrich accompanied at the piano. Their selections included "O Holy Night," "Oh, Little Town of Bethlehem" and "Holy Night."

Following a humorous reading by Miss Etta Hale a social hour was enjoyed.

ETHER STILLS CANARY

MORGANTOWN, W. Va.—When Dr. W. H. McGraw removed a student's tonsils, ether fumes seeped through cracks in a door of the infirmary and invaded the room where "Tink" the infirmary canary bird, was singing. The song suddenly died out and "Tink" collapsed. Infirmary officials revived him.

NEW YORK CURB

NEW YORK, Dec. 18.—(UP)—Trading quieted down considerably on the curb market today, following yesterday's turbulent and dealings were featured by continued advances in some of the recently hard pressed issues.

Advances of more than a point each resulted in further covering in American and Foreign Power warrants, Gulf Oil, Humble Oil and Vacuum Oil, the petroleum shares giving evidence of being being worked into a fully overvalued condition.

Following a burst of strength at the opening, American Gas and Electric Bonds and Shares attracted further offerings, but held steady. Fractional advances were maintained by a large number of representative issues, including American Light and Traction, American Superpower, Cities Service, Niagara Hudson, Newmont Mining and Noranda Mines, the metal shares reflecting a firmer tone in copper prices as well covering and new buying.

Some issues were in quiet supply at fractional losses. These included United Light & Ford, United and Goldman Sachs. Lehigh Coal and Navigation spurted almost 3 points on a sudden demand.

L. A. LIVESTOCK

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 18.—(UP)—Livestock—Receipts 100, steady. Load mixed Oklahoma 9.25. Good Eastern quoted 9.50. CATTLE—Receipts 600; steady to weak. Load good Idaho steers 9.50. WONDERFUL CHRISTMAS PRESENTS

Could you give your family anything that would be more acceptable than a Cadillac car for Christmas? Nothing you could buy would be more dependable, give them as much pleasure in riding qualities or give them any more pride of ownership than to say that "Dad gave us a Cadillac for Christmas." Think this over and compare our unusual values with any new car that you can buy at the same price.

Late model Cadillac and La Salle cars from $950.00 and up. Many other models of different makes for sale, also. You are under no obligation in looking over our stock or trying a car out and remember, our Cadillacs are guaranteed just like any other make of new car.

We are new car dealers and do not depend on used cars for a profit.

EVENING SALUTATION

The young man who applies himself to thinking will, by and by, be amazed to find out how much more there is to think about.

—Otto Kahn.

THE CHOICE

Warren Bradley Bovard, vice-president of the University of Southern California, met death through his own hand today. The thought which rises uppermost probably with everyone is: "Why did he do it? What was so hopeless and discouraging in his life that it brought despair and this final act of surrender?" The news so far received does not give even an obvious or superficial reason. It is impossible to estimate the number of lives he has influenced and his final act comes to them as a shattering shock.

There is so much need today of men and women who are living evidences that there is a purpose and meaning to life. Only last night a speaker in Santa Ana told how he has been confronted again and again by students who have argued with him for hours as to whether there is any purpose to life, whether the individual is not a clod of dirt to be blown away in the end by a puff of wind. One wonders whether in passing as he has, Mr. Bovard did not place the mark of failure on much of his own personal influence. His personal influence in the lives of others has been jeopardized, if not made bad instead of good, by this one act. On the other hand, if his life had run its span his good influence would have continued endlessly. In that choice of conduct is the answer to the wondering students.

It is not permitted to us to measure our influence in the lives of others. When a man of great influence surrenders it is devastating in the lives of many others, such as those enquiring students, or merely some admiring friend to whom his principles, or philosophy, or gaiety has been a precept of conduct, a treasure.

Those who have had faith in the character of this man who has been one of the prime moving spirits of the great university of Southern California will long to justify this act so that they need not question the man. One wonders, perhaps, whether the failure does not rest with those who should have made life desirable to him because of their close relationship to him. Everyone relies more than he will admit of even realizes (humans do so love to be independent), on the love and devotion and kindness of others.

Friendships and loved ones count enough to save life itself if there is a mutual high regard for love and friendship and devotion and self-sacrifice. Grave differences are as nothing compared with the unselfishness and love which is life-sustaining.

SOME IOWA HISTORY

A copy of the Evening Journal, of Washington, Iowa, recently arrived. It has an editorial entitled, "A Little Iowa History." In the course of this editorial it suggests that we should ask ourselves if there is any prospect that a liberalization of our laws so as to permit liquor conditions to return will improve conditions in the state of Iowa, and then it proceeds to state the conditions now and then in the following language:

The vast reduction in drunkenness from the saloon era until today is strikingly shown in the fact that while there were once at least five institutions in Iowa for the care of inebriates, today there is not a single institution in the state exclusively devoted to that work. At one time there were at least 250,000 inebriate patients in the 109 Keeley Cures throughout the United States; today there is one such institution at Dwight, Ill., with only 50 patients!

Iowa had Keeley Cures at Des Moines, Red Oak and Burlington; a Neal Institute at Des Moines and in 1906 the state established an inebriate institute at Knoxville which operated for twelve years, during which time there were recorded 3550 "first time" inebriates. The state spent $398,000 on this institution. As soon as Iowa went dry in 1916, admissions to the state inebriate hospital declined; for instance, in the biennial 1914 to 1916 there were 610 new inebriates admitted; after prohibition 1916 to 1918 there were only 242 new admissions and from 1918 to 1920 there were but 22 such unfortunate; and the state closed the institutions when on December 1, 1919, there were only 11 patients.

The buildings were leased to the government as a hospital for veterans; just as the famous old Keeley Cure at Dwight has been leased for the same purpose. The old hospital would accommodate several hundred, whereas there are only about 50 patients at Dwight today in contrast to the thousands there in the saloon era.

After perusing the above, we might reflect on some of the absurd and ridiculous statements now being made by the same class of people who insisted during those saloon days on keeping conditions as they were.

MICHAEL GOLD ON THORNTON WILDER

We do not know how many of our readers have been following the controversy going on in the columns of the New Republic between the friends and admirers of these two men. If they have not they have missed a liberal education as to what constitutes good and effective fiction.

More than a month ago Michael Gold had a lengthy review of Thornton Wilder's books in that journal, in which he criticized that writer sharply for his retreat into the past in his search for material for his stories. Mr. Gold feels that a writer of today ought not to go to age-old Greece or far-away Peru for his material unless in some way he can relate that material to the life of today. Thornton Wilder's social unawareness of current problems and current aspirations pains Mr. Gold, and naturally so. Mr. Gold has the social passion strongly. He believes that a man of Mr. Wilder's genius has no business to waste it upon petty theories which the world has outlived and outgrown. And he states the fact in a way that has stirred the ire of Mr. Wilder's friends and admirers.

We are not altogether in full accord with Mr. Gold. The fiction writer has liberties not given to the historian or to the social philosopher. Yet there is a point to the criticism of Mr. Wilder's social unawareness. Mr. Gold points out that Sir Walter Scott made use of the romantic life of an era long past, but that he vitalized it with a meaning for the present. This, he says, Mr. Wilder might have done, but has not done. And we agree with him to the extent that pure art, art for its own sake, may please the literary taste of many people, but is not for the best use of talents. Art for the sake of a better world, a happier humanity, may be no less art when it has that end in view.

We confess to a great enjoyment in reading the controversy, and we much regret that the New Republic has closed the door to further comment. Another regret is that the friends of Mr. Wilder might have discussed the whole matter with less heat and passion, and just a little more light. We have an idea that when Mr. Wilder writes his next book the criticism of Mr. Gold will consciously or unconsciously have its influence upon him.

The disappointed amateur detective has turned pharmacist so that he might know what it is to work out a solution.

TIME AND DEMOCRACY

A Washington observer commenting on the "lame ducks," speaks as follows, of Mrs. McCormick:

Another lame duck of this session for whom it is almost impossible not to feel sorry, . . . is Mrs. McCormick. Goodness knows, no one need feel concerned about Mrs. McCormick's financial future. Huge as was the sum she expended on her campaign, it is no more than half of one year's income. The woman is fabulously rich. What engenders sympathy for Mrs. McCormick is the mortifying and crushing character of her defeat. . . . When you consider that the next result of a seven months' campaign, the making of approximately five hundred speeches and the expenditure of an estimated half a million dollars was to persuade nearly one hundred and fifty thousand persons who voted for her in the primary to vote for her opponent in the general election, there just isn't room for comment.

There is one comment that might be made, Mrs. McCormick might retrieve her losses by learning through her mistakes. Even very wealthy people dislike to waste money. Voters may make mistakes of judgment, and place their trust in the wrong people, and temporarily be led astray by listening to the words of a campaigner, but finally they plumb the depths of the sincerity or insincerity and the convictions and principles of candidates. Voters after all can't be stampeded.

One must have great faith in the time element in a democracy.

Imprison Men's Minds As Well As Their Bodies

San Bernardino Sun

The average citizen probably regards literature coming from prisons as a remarkable phenomenon and so much to the good—as if bread should come from stones or fire from thistles. There seem to be prison authorities, however, who look at the matter differently.

Prisoners in California are forbidden to write for publication. Thus men who in their penitentiary cells formerly produced excellent magazine articles and books, and found a market for them, are silenced. An effective damper is put upon prison writing.

If there had been such a rule in the Ohio penitentiary when O. Henry lived there, one of the most famous American authors would never have developed. It will be a pity if the policy spreads.

Such a regulation means more than potential loss to literature. Think what it must mean to the aspirations of prisoners. Incarceration is made more hopeless and purposeless than ever. What are our prisons for, anyhow? Must we imprison the mind along with the body? Must there be no incentive to ambition and creative achievement behind prison bars? Do we send men and women to prison to blot them out, or to improve them? If the latter, why forbid them to improve themselves?

If a convict can win, from his cell, recognition for intellectual achievement, doesn't he deserve it? And doesn't such a person become an asset to the society that sent him there?

Gold Revival

Oakland Tribune

Up in the mountains where there are memories of a gold mining industry which in the peak year 1852, produced over $1 million dollars, talk is heard of the prospects for revival. Men there will tell you that among the reasons the mines are now producing about ten millions annually are oppressive taxation, restrictive laws and, perhaps, an absence of vigorous publicity.

The fields are as rich as ever, the miners say, but in most of them now the call is not so much for the prospector who used to move in with his grubstake, but for capital and operations on the larger scale. Thus the Siskiyou News, expressing the opinion that the new state administration will solve the problem and improve conditions, says: "The job of the administration will be to adjust the situation so that capital can be persuaded to enter the field. Past administrations have woefully neglected gold which could rank with agriculture and oil as one of our leading sources of wealth."

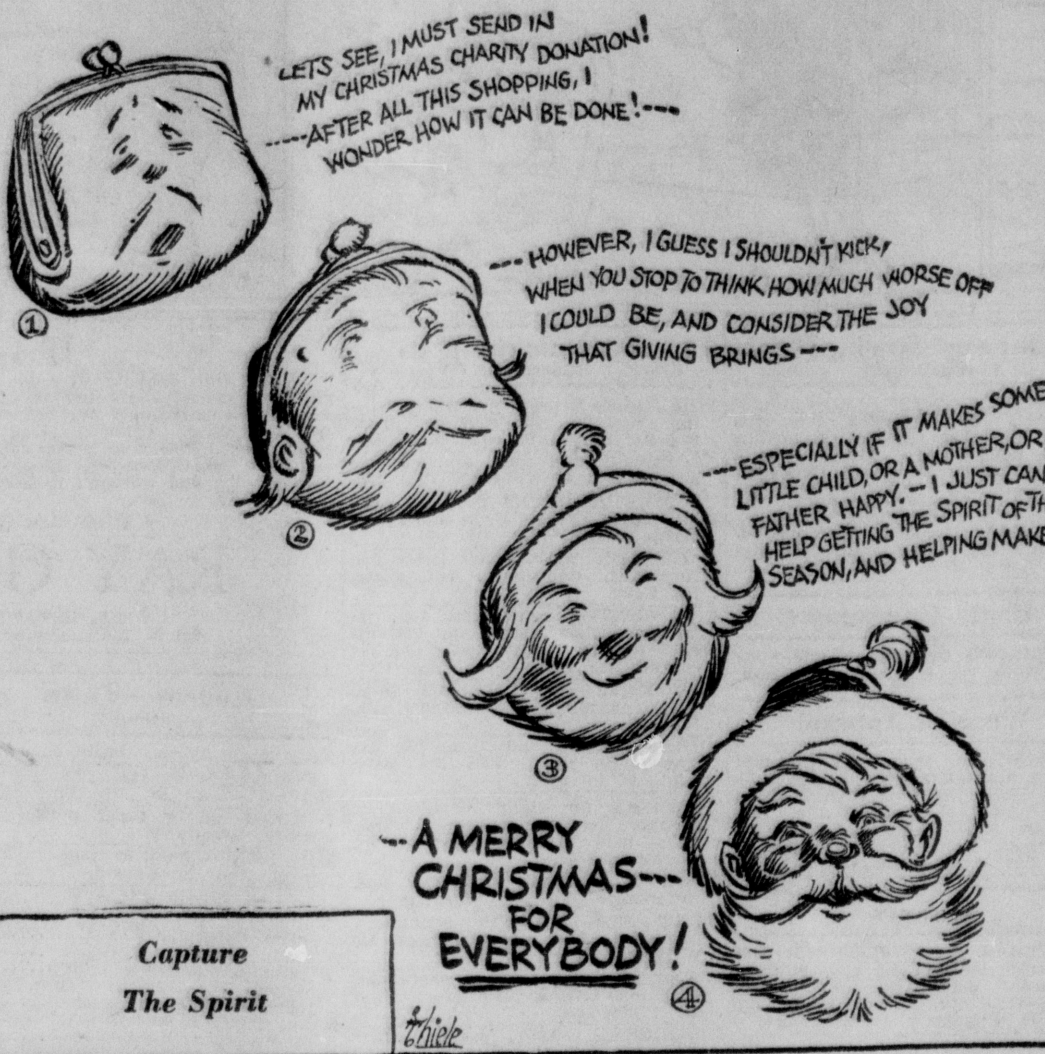

One of these days—and it is to be hoped soon—the never-falling confidence and optimism of the gold lands will be rewarded.

The Job Is the Thing

San Francisco Chronicle

Psychology is getting better in regard to economic conditions. But the man out of work cannot live on psychology or feed his family on it. He must have dollars and cents, or the equivalent thereof. They who, with largeness of heart and with Golden Rule spirit, are making work for the workless, are doing real good—and incidentally are helping to hasten return of normal economic conditions. The more jobs that are created the sooner will average equilibrium for business and industry be restored.

More Truth Than Poetry

By James J. Montague

A SONG OF GRATITUDE

Our granddads cleared the forest lands
That they might till the soil,
While hard and horny grew their hands
From unremitting toil.

When kindly was the Summer clime
They toiled throughout the day,
And labored all the Wintertime
To clear the snow away.
But ere the countenances sad
Our idle lives we view,
Remember that our granddads had
But little else to do.

No pleasant things were to be done
Like those which cheer us now.
Our honest granddads' only fun
Was following the plow.
They could not sit by radios
The latest hits to hear,
They could not go to "talkie" shows
And watch the villain sneer.
No honest reason could they find
Their daily tasks to shirk,
And consequently were resigned
To hard and steady work.

When to those stern laborious days
We happen to allude,
We ought to give our granddad praise
As well as gratitude.
Had he not toiled, in times gone by,
With toil-bespangled brow
At pioneering, you and I
Should have to do it now.
We put our time to happier use
And free our souls from cares,
Because our sires had no excuse
For not employing theirs.

The Rattling of Swords

By WILLIAM TRUFANT FOSTER and WADDILL CATCHINGS

From the recent flamboyant speeches of Mussolini, it seems as though he expected to carry out his great industrial program, not by sound economics, but by military force. The program of Fascism, he declares, is still summed up in the one word—Fight. To which his mouthpiece, the TEVERE, adds: "Peace speeches are all very well for the sons of France, England and America; but we wish to teach our children the use of arms, even before they learn to speak."

Again and again, Mussolini reminds his people that Rome was once mistress of the world. "We need more land," he says. "No one can stop our inexorable will!"

And again: "I have a rendezvous. When the time comes, I shall tell you the place, and you will come."

Reminiscent, all this, of the once-belligerent Kaiser. It recalls the "iron will" and the "mailed fist" of Germany, the cries of "Deutschland über alles" and the toasts to "Der Tag." In fact, not since the resplendent visit of the ex-Kaiser to the Near East, has there been such a pyrotechnic display of imperialistic ambition.

Has the present Italian Dictator learned nothing from the Kaiser's experience?

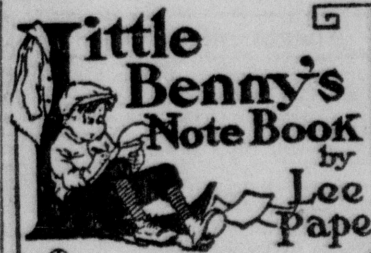

During a warless quarter of a century, German chemists and biologists and physicists, in peaceful seclusion, won world markets. We bought German goods solely because no other country could supply what we wanted at so low a price. Nobody ever ordered anything from Germany because he feared her military power.

Even if it were possible to seize markets by military force, it would be impossible to keep them in that way. "You can do may things with bayonets, but you cannot sit on them."

Germany's fighters lost for her the enviable place which her scientists had won, in laboratory, and in school, in mine and in factory.

The policy of Imperial Germany was madness. No nation ever gained markets by the rattling of swords.

Ma was looking at her list of the people she has either bought presents for already or still has to, saying to pop, P. Willis Hinkle had a very good article in today's paper. He says the grate part about Christmas is that it gives us a chance to be really charitable without giving offends. In other words he says the ideal way is to give all we can to the people who really need it, and then we'll be doing real good instead of observing Christmas in name only, she said. I just happened to think of that seeing your cuzzens Gerlies name here on my list. The poor woman has had such a hard time with 2 such perfect children and such an imperfect husband, ma said. It's a golden time for me to be a living proof of P. Willis Hinkles ideas, she said.

In with you, pop said. I think we awt to give her a nice little sum of money. There's nothing like money when your poor, and in fact many rich people seem to place a certain value on it too, he said, and ma said, I think it would show more than and attention if I gave her something more definite that she really needs. For instance, Hook's orders has a sale of clothes trees for $8 dollars and 90 cents, and those nothing like a nice clothes tree for keeping a poor family's house from looking still poorer by having clothes and hats dragging around homelessly instead of neatly hung up. And speaking of clothes I think Ill get Mrs. Hewes an evening shawl. I know she just happens to want one, fortunately, and I can get a really smart one for 32 dollars and 40 cents, ma said.

But yee gods the Hewses are rolling in money and old Hews just made another killing on the stock market, pop said, and ma said, Certainly, that's just why she wont appreciate anything that's not really nice and a little expensive.

Help aid sucker, pop said. And he got behind the sporting page and ma kept on making marks on her list.

In the Long Ago

From The Register Files
14 Years Ago Today

Miss Alice Cranston, of University of California and Miss Ruth Visel of Stanford arrived in Santa Ana today to spend the Christmas holidays.

County School Superintendent R. R. Mitchell announced that the county institute will be held at Fullerton next year at the meeting of the institute held yesterday.

Wells and Bressler were awarded the contract for putting two-foot shoulders on West Fifth street at the adjourned meeting of the city council last night.

E. B. Gyller, who has just been appointed manager of the Central Lemon association has leased the residence of Mrs. C. W. Hallman at 623 East Maple avenue in Orange and is moving his family there from Corona.

Seventeen employees of the Santa Fe were made happy today by the receipt of individual checks for 10 per cent of their salary for the last year, the checks ranging from $60 to $170.

Between 30 and 40 children and a number of their parents gathered yesterday afternoon at the Catholic church where the Sisters in charge planned and carried out a very pleasant entertainment, decorating the cheerful school room in holiday fashion.

Thoughts On Modern Life

SEVEN LAMPS OF RECOVERY

Day before yesterday I listed in condensed form five major assets that Stuart Chase—in an article in The Saturday Review of Literature for November 22—sees as raw materials of hope for our economic recovery. Yesterday, from the same discussion, I listed eight liabilities that Mr. Chase sees. Today I want, in like fashion, to list seven things that Mr. Chase suggests as possible planks in the platform of an economic recovery campaign. I am not in agreement with some phases of this tentative listing of remedies, and shall discuss some of them later, but the list is highly stimulating.

(1) Immediately call an economic disarmament conference of the nations, as suggested by Irving Bush, to shift the world's economic relations from the field of conflict to the field of co-operation. This is more urgently important than the scrapping of battleships.

(2) Encourage the Stable Money Association to prepare a bold plan for the revision of the credit structure, give it the widest publicity, and call a special session of Congress to enact the program, when its soundness is assured, into law.

(3) Create a Supreme Economic Council, similar to the War Industries Board, manned by the best unpaid brains we can muster from the ranks of government, trade associations, organized labor, or gainzained agriculture, and the consuming millions, and put such Council at the task of preparing a Ten Year Plan for the co-ordinate economic development of the United States. One of its big jobs, as Mr. Chase sees it, would be the prevention of investment in excess plant capacity that would aggravate rather than allay the present excess of production over demand.

(4) Revise the Sherman Anti-Trust Law to permit the regularization of production and the allocation of markets with adequate safeguards of our natural resources and adequate protection of the consumer against monopoly prices.

(5) Substitute for the declining motor car industry, as a new stimulus to prosperity, a vast program of slum destruction and home construction, as advocated by The New Republic.

(6) Abolish stock exchange gambling by reforms to the elaboration of which Professor William Z. Ripley could bring sage and sound counsel.

(7) Resist wage reduction and promote a progressive reduction of hours as the most available steps toward absorbing technological unemployment, and devise a nation-wide unemployment insurance program to take care of the immediate situation.

This specific sort of thinking is the type of consideration that liberals should now be giving to the politico-economic situation; it is not a time for the merely fervent preaching of liberal principles, but a time for dealing with concrete issues.

OUR CHILDREN

By ANGELO PATRI

JOY SHOUTS

It is hard for children to hold their minds on a task for any length of time. It is very trying for their active young bodies to be obliged to sit quietly and study for the long school session. A period of work, of sitting still and listening, must be followed by a period of activity. Some relief to the weary nerves and muscles must be offered or there will be trouble.

The younger children ought to be given a short free recess in the morning session. If the conditions permit, the children should run freely about and shout as loud as they wish. The loud shout is the expression of the lungs for expansion and fresh air, of the strained muscles and aching nerves for change of posture relief from pressure. It is not wise to ask a class of little children to play quietly, to walk on tip-toe, to have a game of tag without making a sound. Noise goes with healthy play. Forbid the joyful shout and you kill the play.

You will notice that when the children do their homework they concentrate on a task and work steadily in silence for a time. Once the hard example is done, or the paragraph written, there is a joyful shout of some sort.

The child will stretch and yawn, move about, tell a story about something that happened that day, laugh and chat until either his sense of duty calls him back to work, or somebody reminds him of it. That little recess is necessary. Deprive him of those few minutes' complete relaxation and you deprive him of the power necessary for the remainder of the job.

Often a child practicing a music lesson will toll faithfully on a difficult passage, get it fairly well and then break into trills and runs and roundelays, some sort of joyful noise. Take that as part of the scheme. If the child after such a break gets down to the work again, console yourself that all is well. Should he insist upon drumming and improvising without any show of interest in the task at hand he is plainly avoiding the unpleasant drudgery. Remind him to go ahead with his lesson. Work must precede any shout of relief, any recreational exercise.

Some children grow so tense about a lesson that they forget to stop. On and on, lesson after lesson, they work until bedtime without pause. That is not good. The child will be too weary to sleep well and that means that he starts to school the next day with a tired body and muddled mind. Watch such a child, and when you see he has reached a good stopping place speak to him, call his attention away for a minute, give him a lemon drop, if he likes them, or an apple, a cookie, some little pleasant interlude between tasks.

The other sort of child works a few minutes, stops to sharpen a pencil, to hunt for the right kind of paper, to find a book he suddenly discovers he needs, to ask if he can go to the entertainment next month, to announce that his shoes need mending, to berate his little sister for shaking the table. That child is dodging work and needs to be sent to a quiet room and held to his job.

All children need relief from work and this relief is usually expressed in some form of joyous shout. Don't stifle him, but try to see that honest work necessitates that shout. It is always a healthy sign. Lazy and idle children seldom indulge in it.

THE SLAVERY AMENDMENT

On Dec. 18, 1865, Congress passed the 13th amendment to the constitution, abolishing slavery throughout the Union. It was the first amendment, out of the hundreds that had been proposed, which had been adopted in more than 60 years.

The amendment was the outcome of President Lincoln's emancipation proclamation which he issued on the first day of the New Year, 1863. The president declared that this "act of justice," that is, the liberating of all slaves, was warranted by the constitution upon military necessity. He invoked for it "the considerable judgment of mankind and the gracious favor of Almighty God."

As further action that the proclamation was necessary to prevent the re-establishment of slavery after the war, congress two years later passed the 13th amendment. The members of the house then joined in singing the doxology.

The amendment confirmed the proclamation and extended it to all slaves held in any part of the United States.
